McEvoy High School

Foreword

Since our high school years have an important effect on our growth as individuals, it seems only appropriate that we focus the '63 RAMSCOTT around this idea.

School offers many opportunities for growth to its students. It is by taking advantage of these opportunities, by carrying out our duties and accepting our responsibilities that we grow and mature. Our growth, in turn, has a significant effect on the progress of our school.

As you turn these pages, we hope you will see how McEvoy and Willingham have worked, hand in hand, to grow into a position of leadership, while continually anticipating greater achievements in the future.

We proudly present to you the '63 RAMSCOTT, focusing on our schools, our students, and our . . . growth.

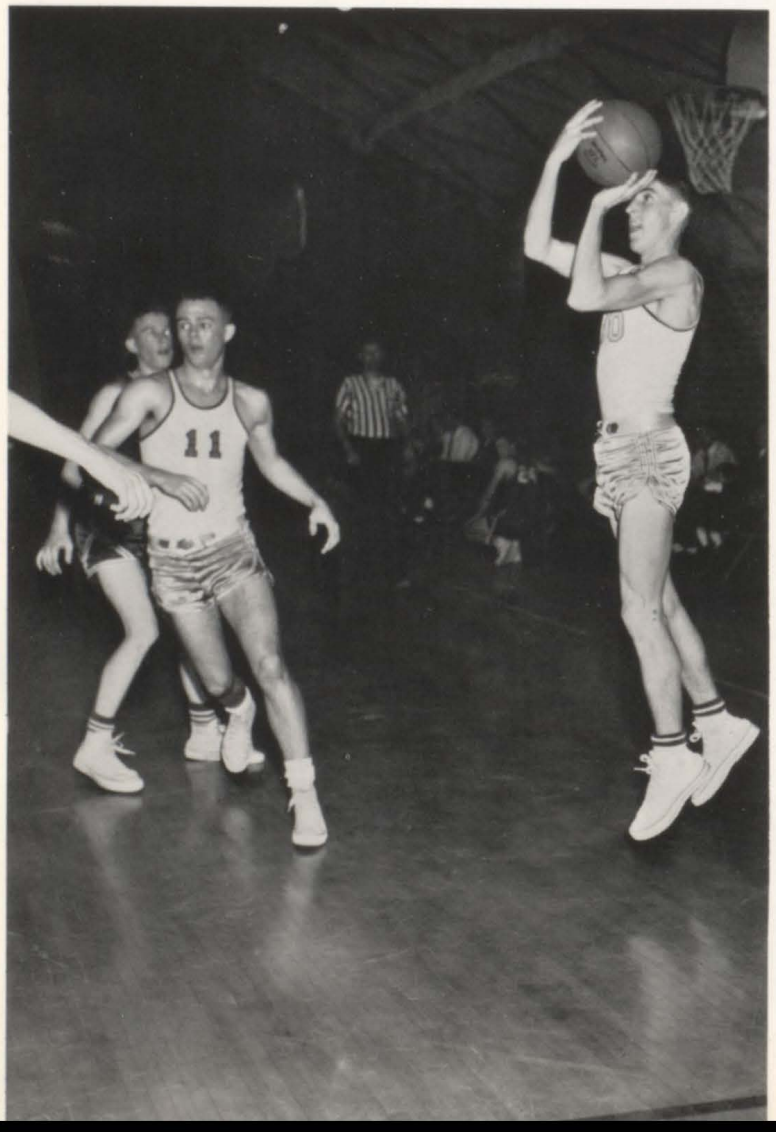
Dedication

For her part in aiding the annual staff with the publication of the Ramscott, her advisorship of the Spanish Club, and above all her understanding and guidance in teaching the students of McEvoy, we dedicate our part of the 1963 Ramscott to:

Elizabeth P. Kinesley

Through the past five years the Seniors have established themselves as capable leaders; boys ready to work and willing to co-operate with members of the other classes.

In sports the Seniors have worked hard to strengthen the teams on which they play through practice, co-operation, and good sportsmanship.



From fall of 1958 till spring of 1963. Five years. Half a decade of the most wonderful years of our lives. We, the Senior Class, are the first to go all the way through the ranks. We have seen teachers come and go, and even an exchange of principals. What have we done to make our mark upon the halls of Willingham?

Certainly being the first, the trailblazers, is a distinction, but what are some of our other accomplishments?

In the short five years of Willingham's existence, it has been noted that we have made great strides of progress in practically all fields: Willingham students have taken an active part in many civic and community affairs. This comparatively young school, unheard of a short five years ago, is now a top state contender in every major sport. This is a feat practically unheard of in any other prep school.

Also Willingham has a record number of new clubs and organizations which will benefit each student. Most of their officers and leaders are Seniors, boys who know the job because they have had experience.

This Senior Class has been a standout this year, as it had while in its sub-freshman, freshman, sophomore, and junior years. We are sure that the Seniors of this year will be standouts in their particular fields for the decades to come.

The class officers strive to help their class improve on the accomplishments of the previous Senior Classes.

Dedication

For its eminence as being the first Senior Class to complete five years of study at Willingham High School, we, the Rams, dedicate our portion of this RAMSCOTT to the Class of '63.

These students came young to a young school, felt the growing pains of a new school, and are leaving with the same distinction, maturity, and pride they helped their school acquire.

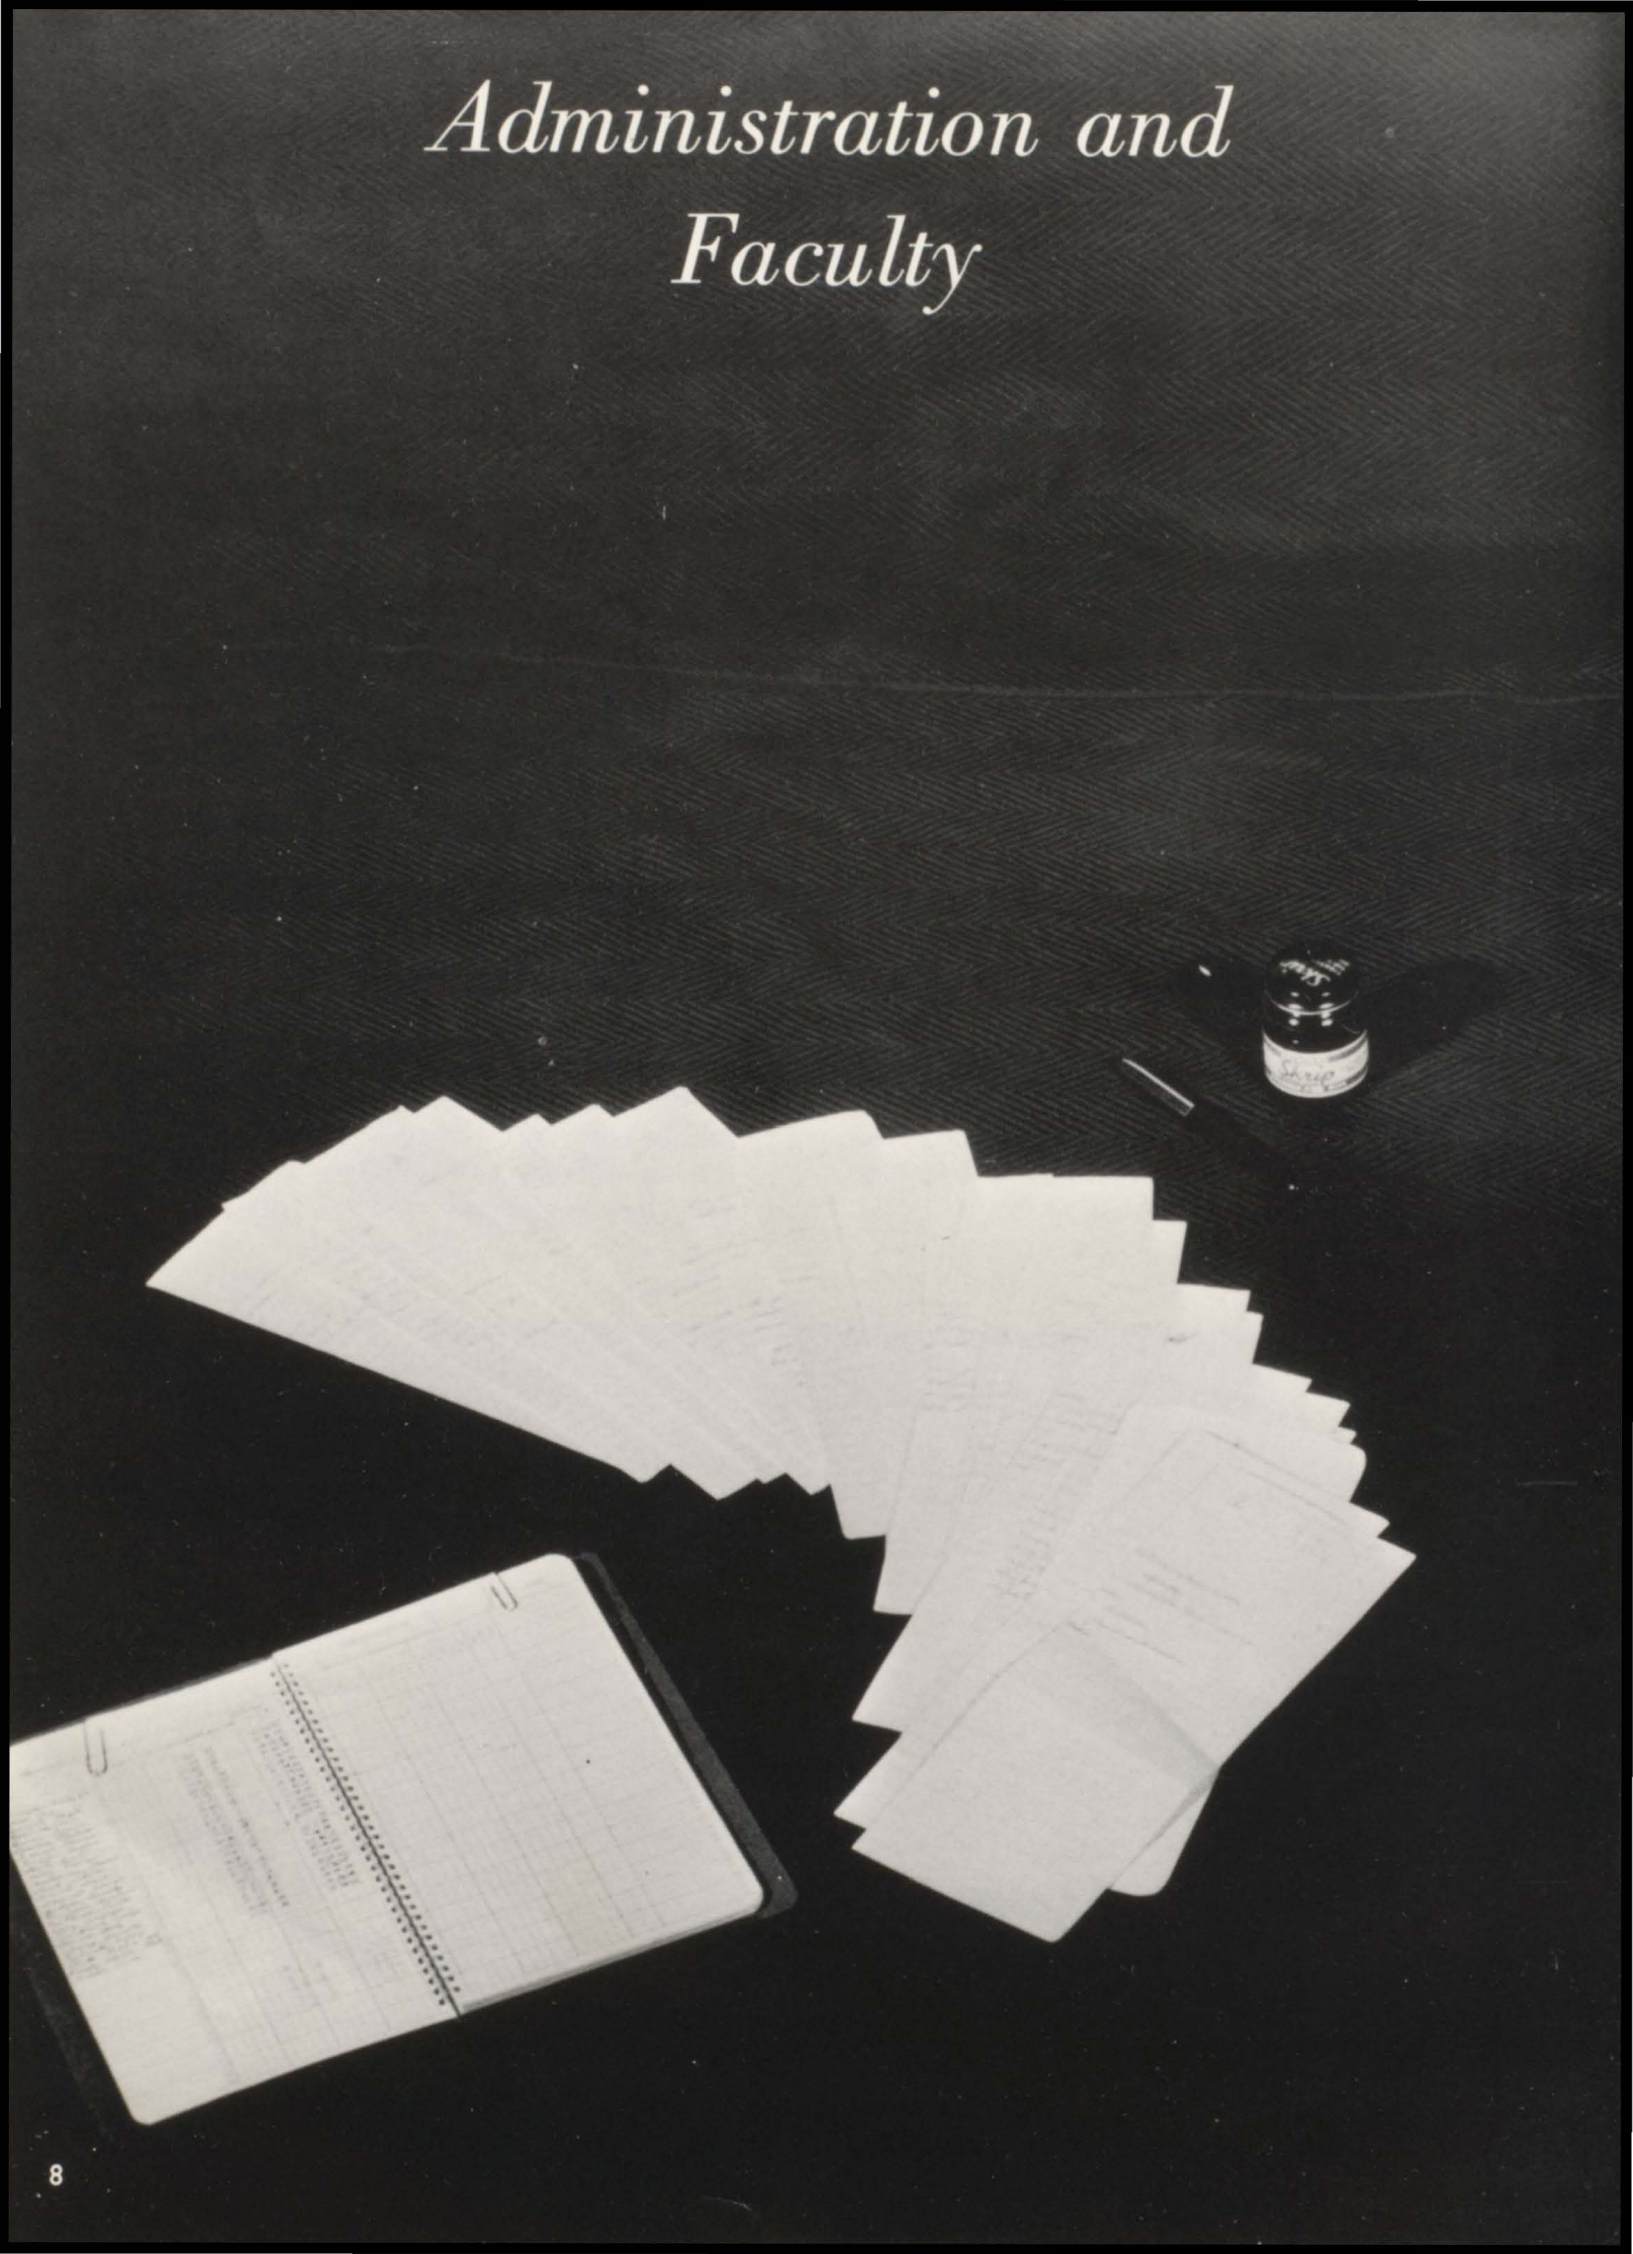
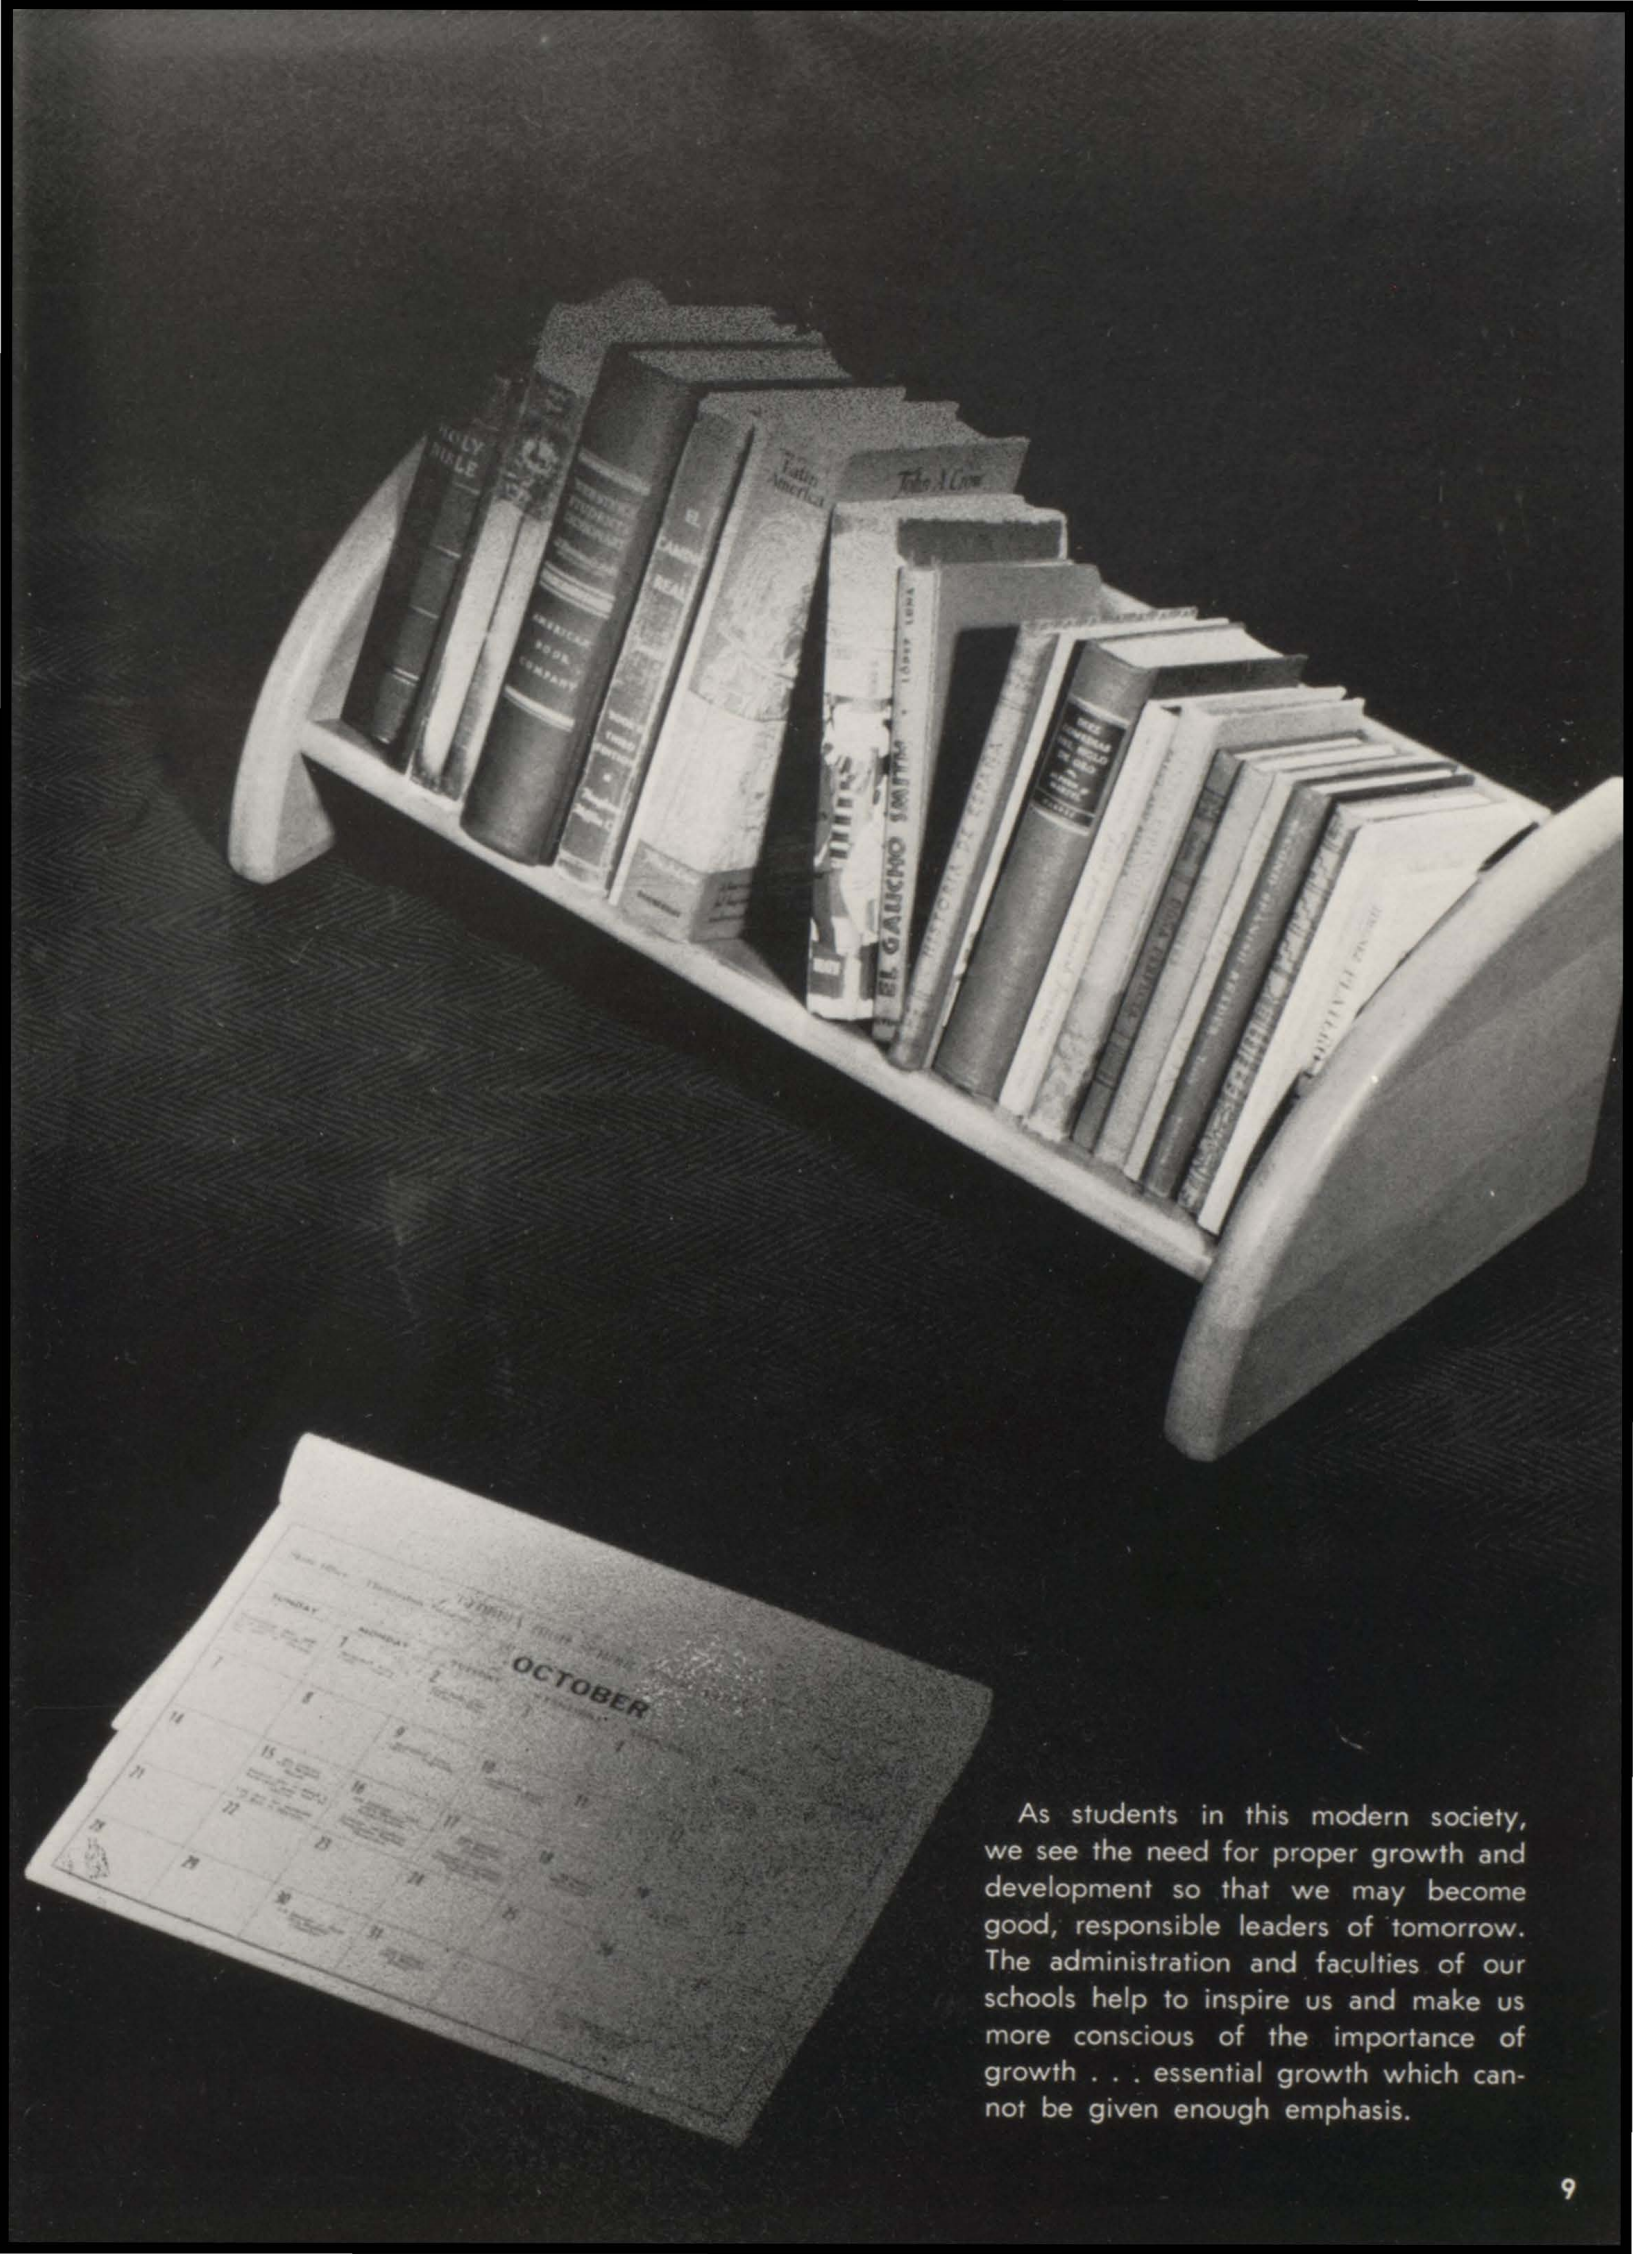
Administration and Faculty





As students in this modern society, we see the need for proper growth and development so that we may become good, responsible leaders of tomorrow. The administration and faculties of our schools help to inspire us and make us more conscious of the importance of growth . . . essential growth which cannot be given enough emphasis.

The office is the center of all school activity and it is truly active . . . with students, teachers, visitors, and the telephone . . . It is a place where everyone brings their problems and, we hope, feels wanted and loved. Of course, we're also interested in keeping all our clerical work up to date and in good order . . . This is the OFFICE STORY.

In chorus we find enjoyment in the meanings of music, which cannot be as effectively expressed in any other medium; we work to cultivate our voices, and we share our accomplishments by performing in various school and community activities.

Only a library opens all doors. The library is a temple where a reader can come to worship, to wonder, to hope, and to despair. The library is the home of knowledge and the room of pleasure.

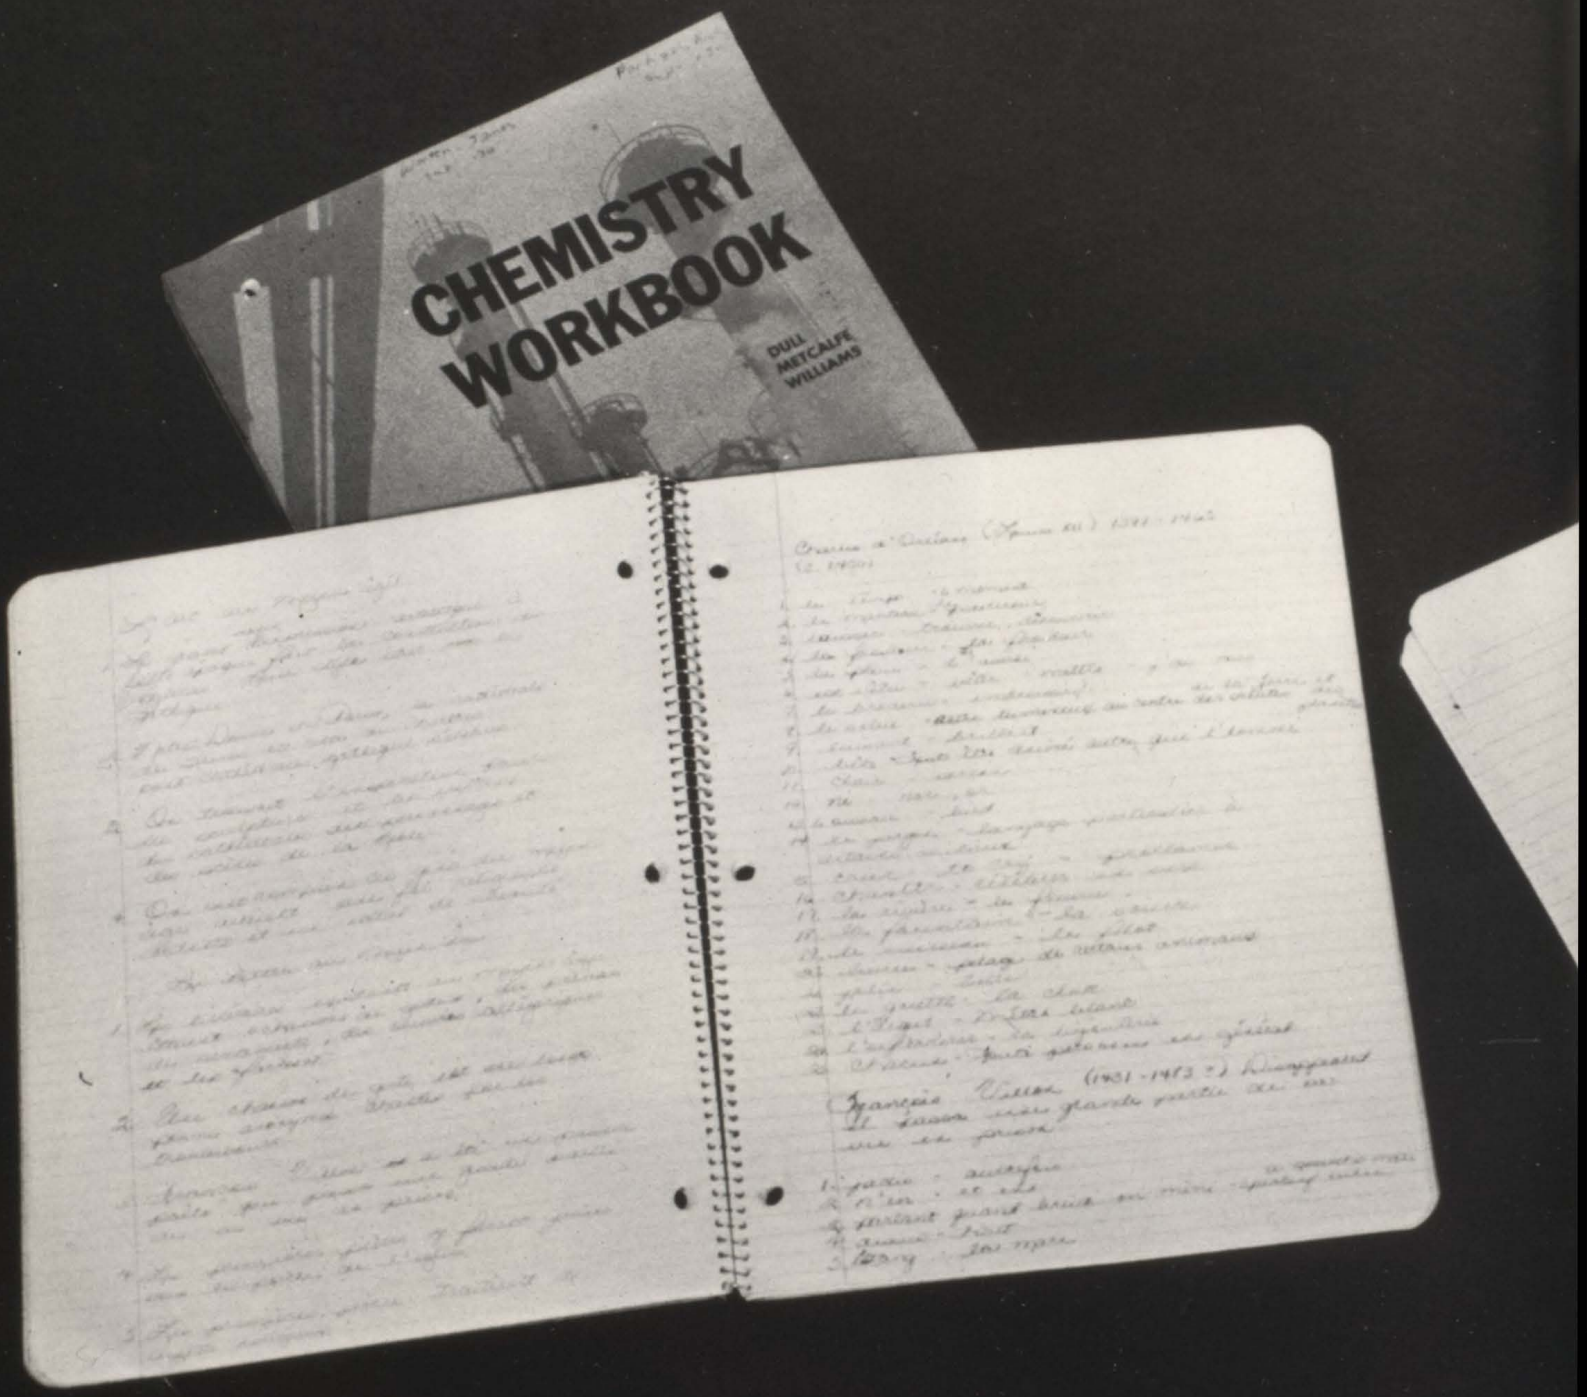
It is important for us to learn about our world and how it is affected by science.

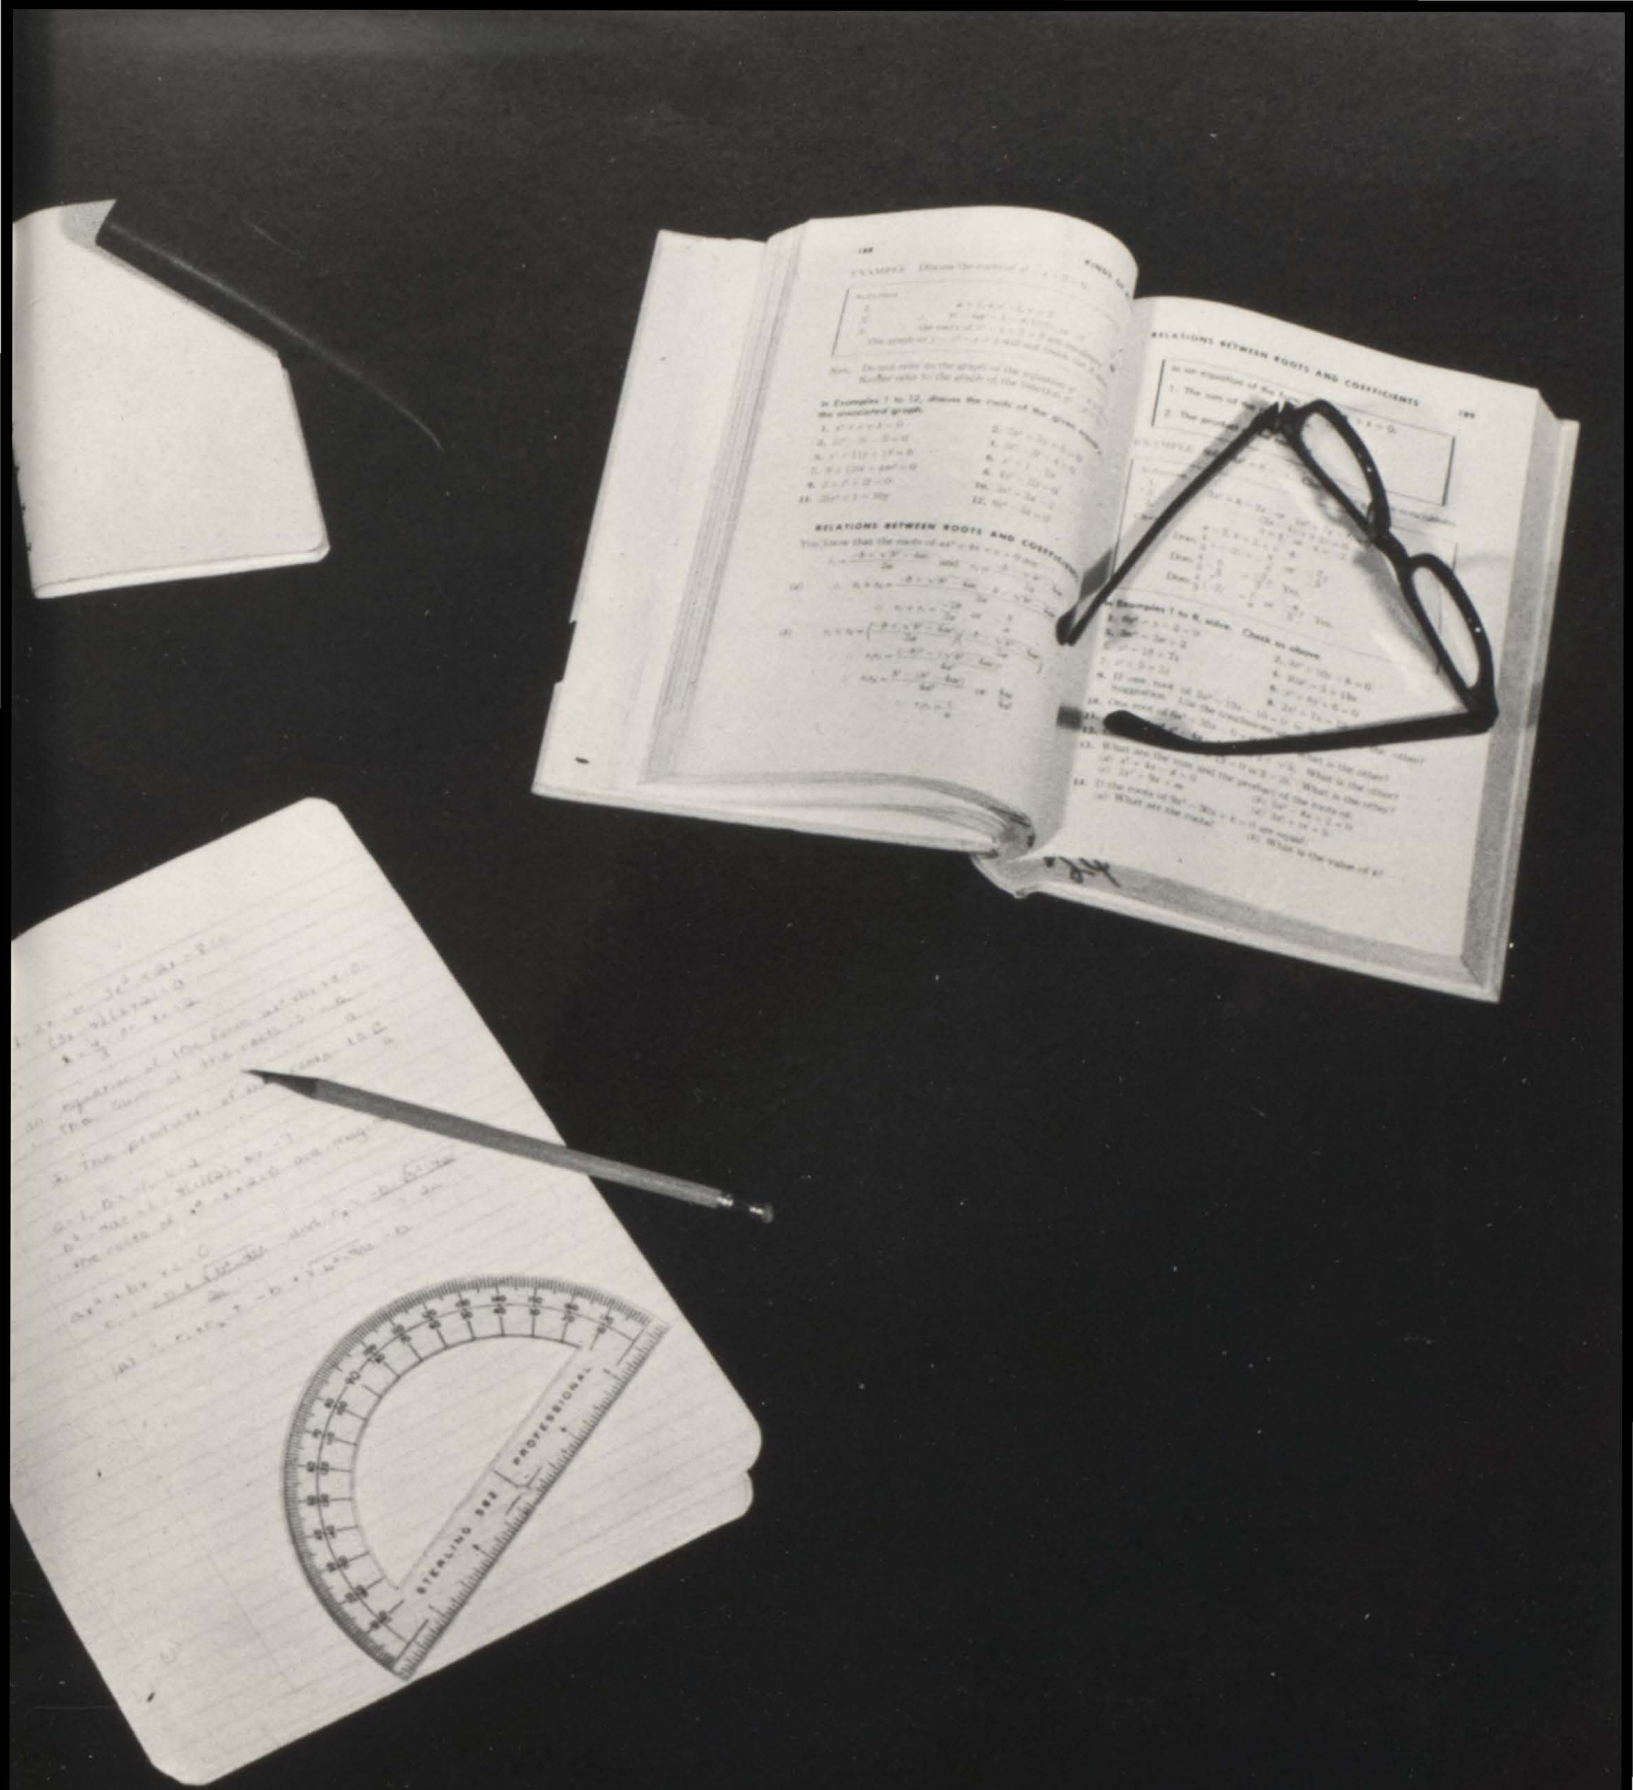
In business education, the boys become better qualified to serve as leaders in tomorrow's business world.

Typing helps students prepare for the business field; it is also useful to a student in preparing his school work.

Through strenuous daily exercise in our thorough physical education program, we produce strong, healthy bodies.

Classes





Much of our growth is effected by our high school years. Each grade places before a student an opportunity for better growth and development. Upon completion of each year, a pupil has attained another step on the ladder of maturity . . . a step greatly influenced by his classroom activities.

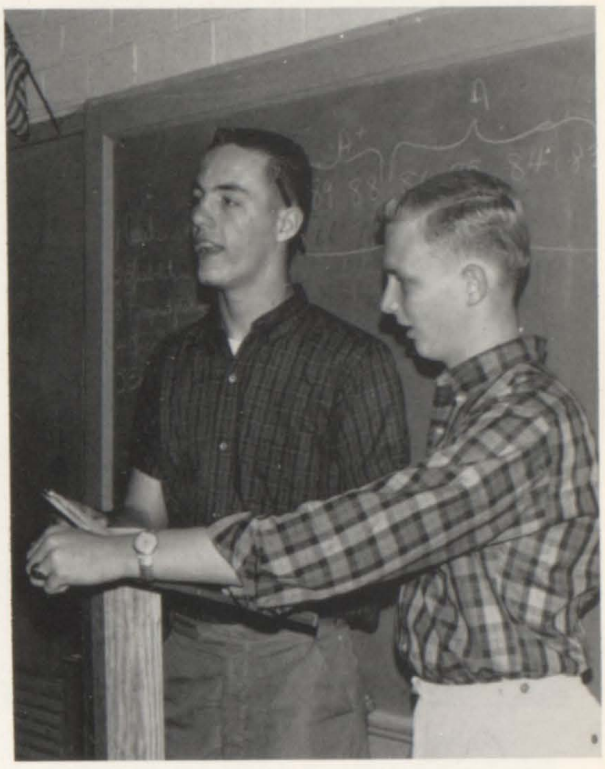
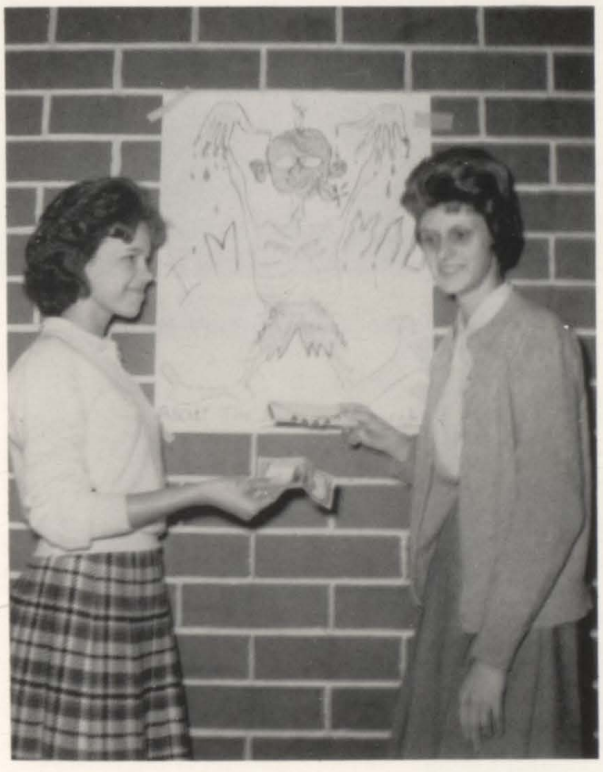
No sweeter words are there to a senior than "My algebra-trig class won't meet today." This group enjoys its free period with a taffy pull in the clinic.

It seems that Mark and Ken are entertaining the economics class with a duet, but we later find that they are only giving a report.





Everyone was mad about the bracelets sold by the Senior Class, especially Debbie Mcmillian as she buys one from Phydan.

Mrs. Chambers and Jo Anne take a moment from typing class to read a recent issue of the Bonnie Blue Print.

Jane Windham, Delores Tomsic, and Elaine Carr are watching their weights . . . metric weights, that is.

With the true Christmas spirit Donna Evancic and Sandra Meeks check to see if their class has collected enough toys for the children of a needy family.

At a Junior Class meeting Mrs. Hinesley introduces the girls to annual work and tries to interest them in it, as Sandra Meeks listens attentively.

Book reports are frequent attractions in English class. Larry Sharples gives his.

Who will win the space race? Jerri Alfirov and Sue Hallman stretch a connecting rope between the two parts of the rocket in hopes that this will illustrate the cooperation needed in world affairs.

The library offers many study helps for Len Woodard and Tommy Arrowood.

Mrs. Gresham aids Glenda Daniels and Joy Leonard as they dissect a frog in biology.

Entries into the Kodak contest are being admired by Billy Wilson, Ray Hamlin, and Willie Baker.

Sandy Jones and Barbara Booker help raise the sophomore treasury by selling doughnuts.

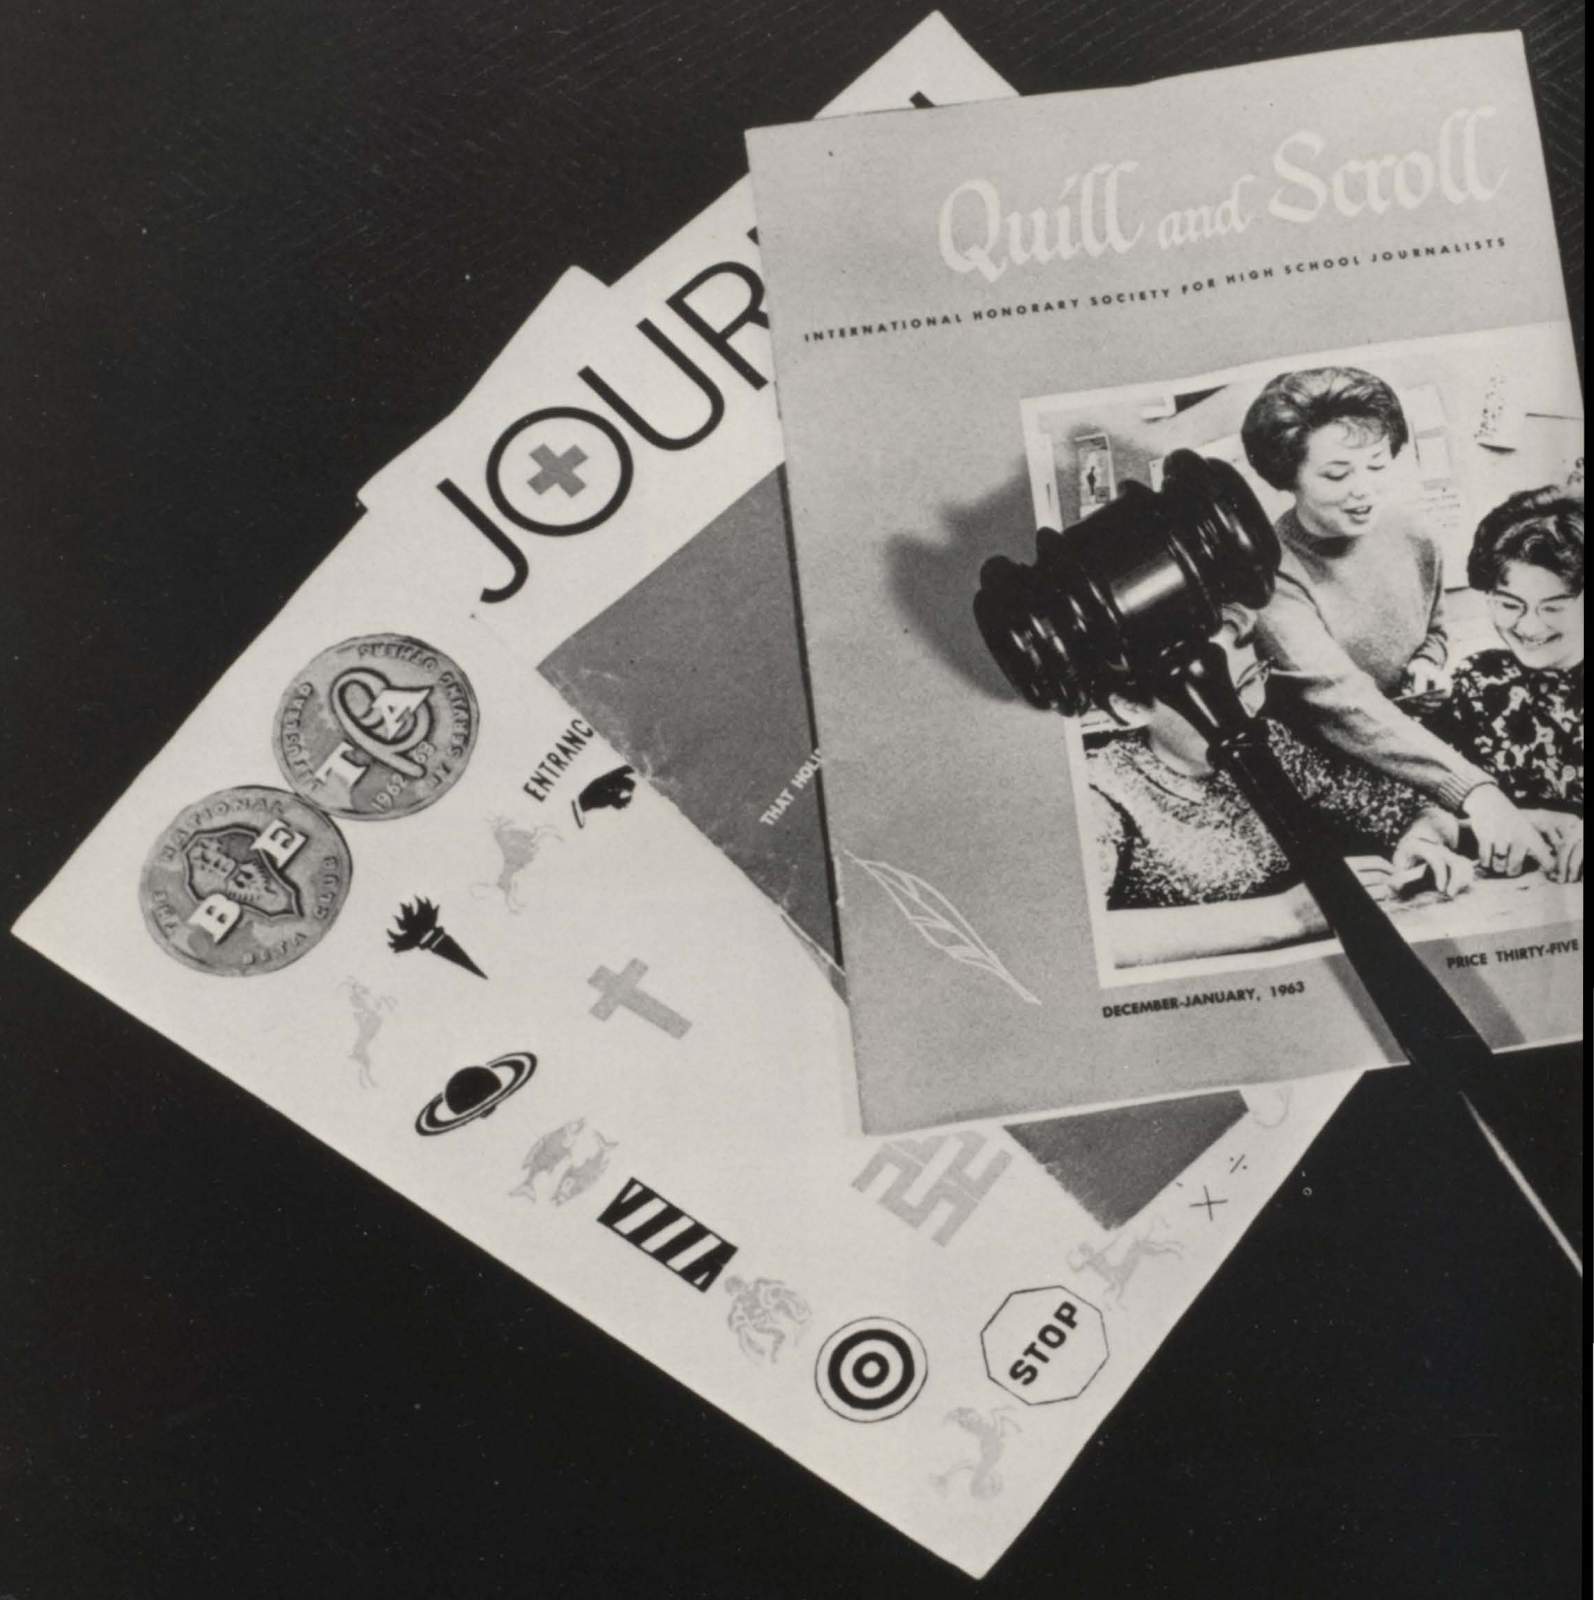
Attracted by the art exhibit, Don Strickland takes a look at a few of the drawings.

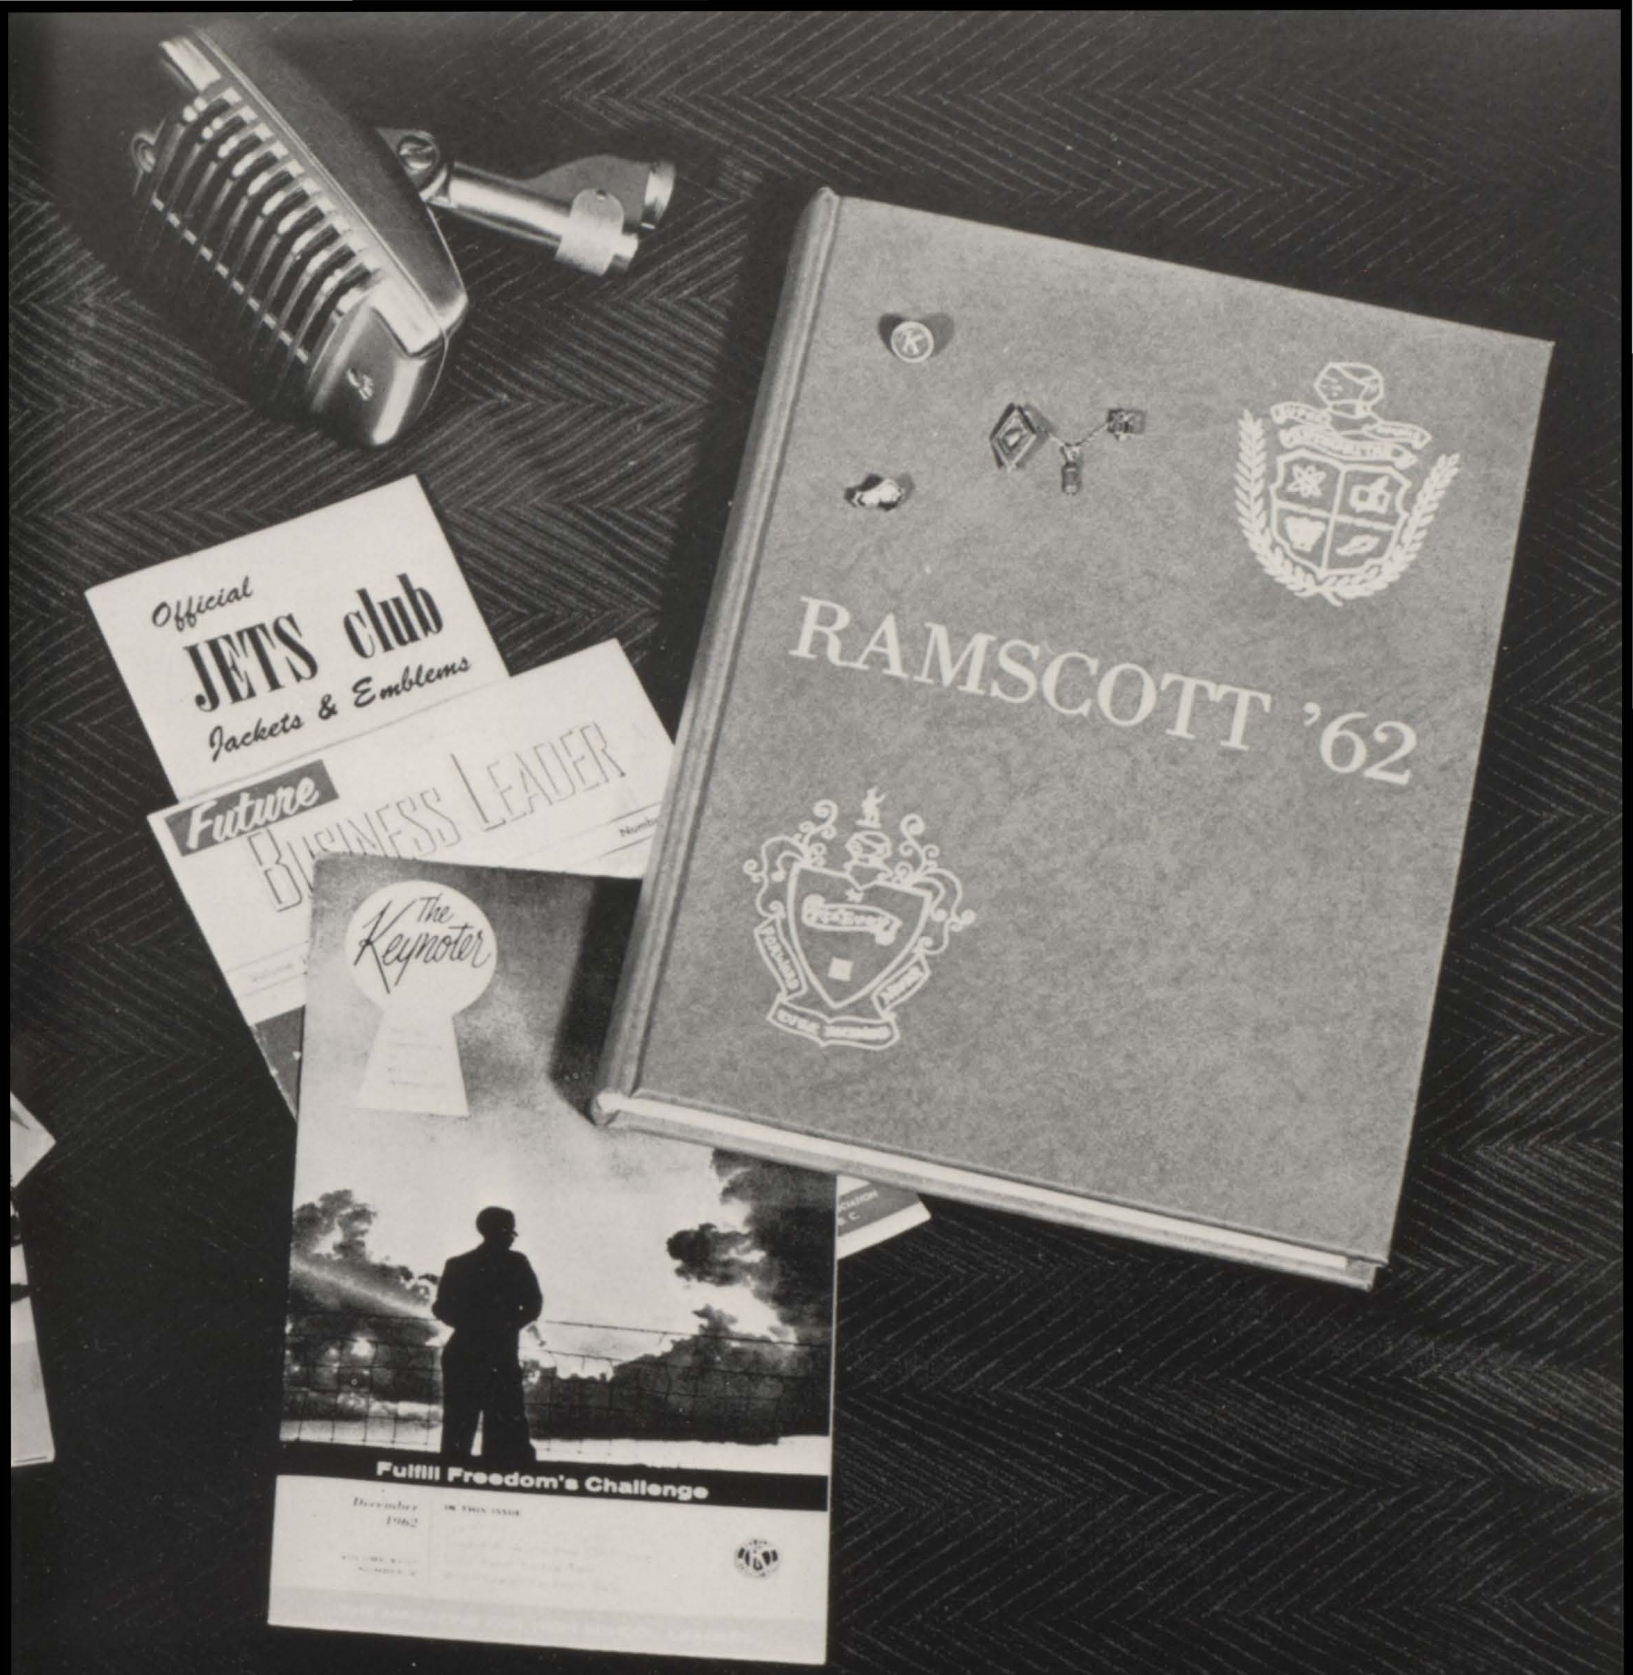
First aid supplies are always on hand in the office. Mrs. Frost gives Gena Bryant a band-aid.

At one of the favorite spots in the library, June Harvey and Tommie Ann Stone enjoy reading a magazine.

June Bryant and Janice Rawlings purchase school supplies from Adecia Pierce, one of our Book Store managers.

Organizations





Through organizations we learn to appreciate the true worth of our freedom to assemble. Any group is only as valuable as the effectiveness of its activities . . . effectiveness which depends upon the interest and enthusiasm of its members. Our clubs help us individually and collectively learn to use this liberty as advantageously as possible . . . expanding and strengthening our understanding of democracy.

McEvoy Student Council

The Student Council serves as the governing body of the students, and it co-ordinates all school activities. Throughout the year it sponsors various projects, such as Honor Week, canned food drives, a festival in the spring, and the collection of money for the William Brake Scholarship Fund.

Ramscott Editorial Staff

"What does my job as activities editor include?" A question similar to this was being asked frequently this fall by a group known as the Ramscott editorial staff. After instruction from Mrs. Hinesley and Mrs. O'Keefe, our advisors, and a period of trial and error learning . . . and frustration . . . we knew what was ahead of us. It has been an experience which we hope will be quite rewarding for you . . . the student . . . it certainly has been for us . . . the staff.

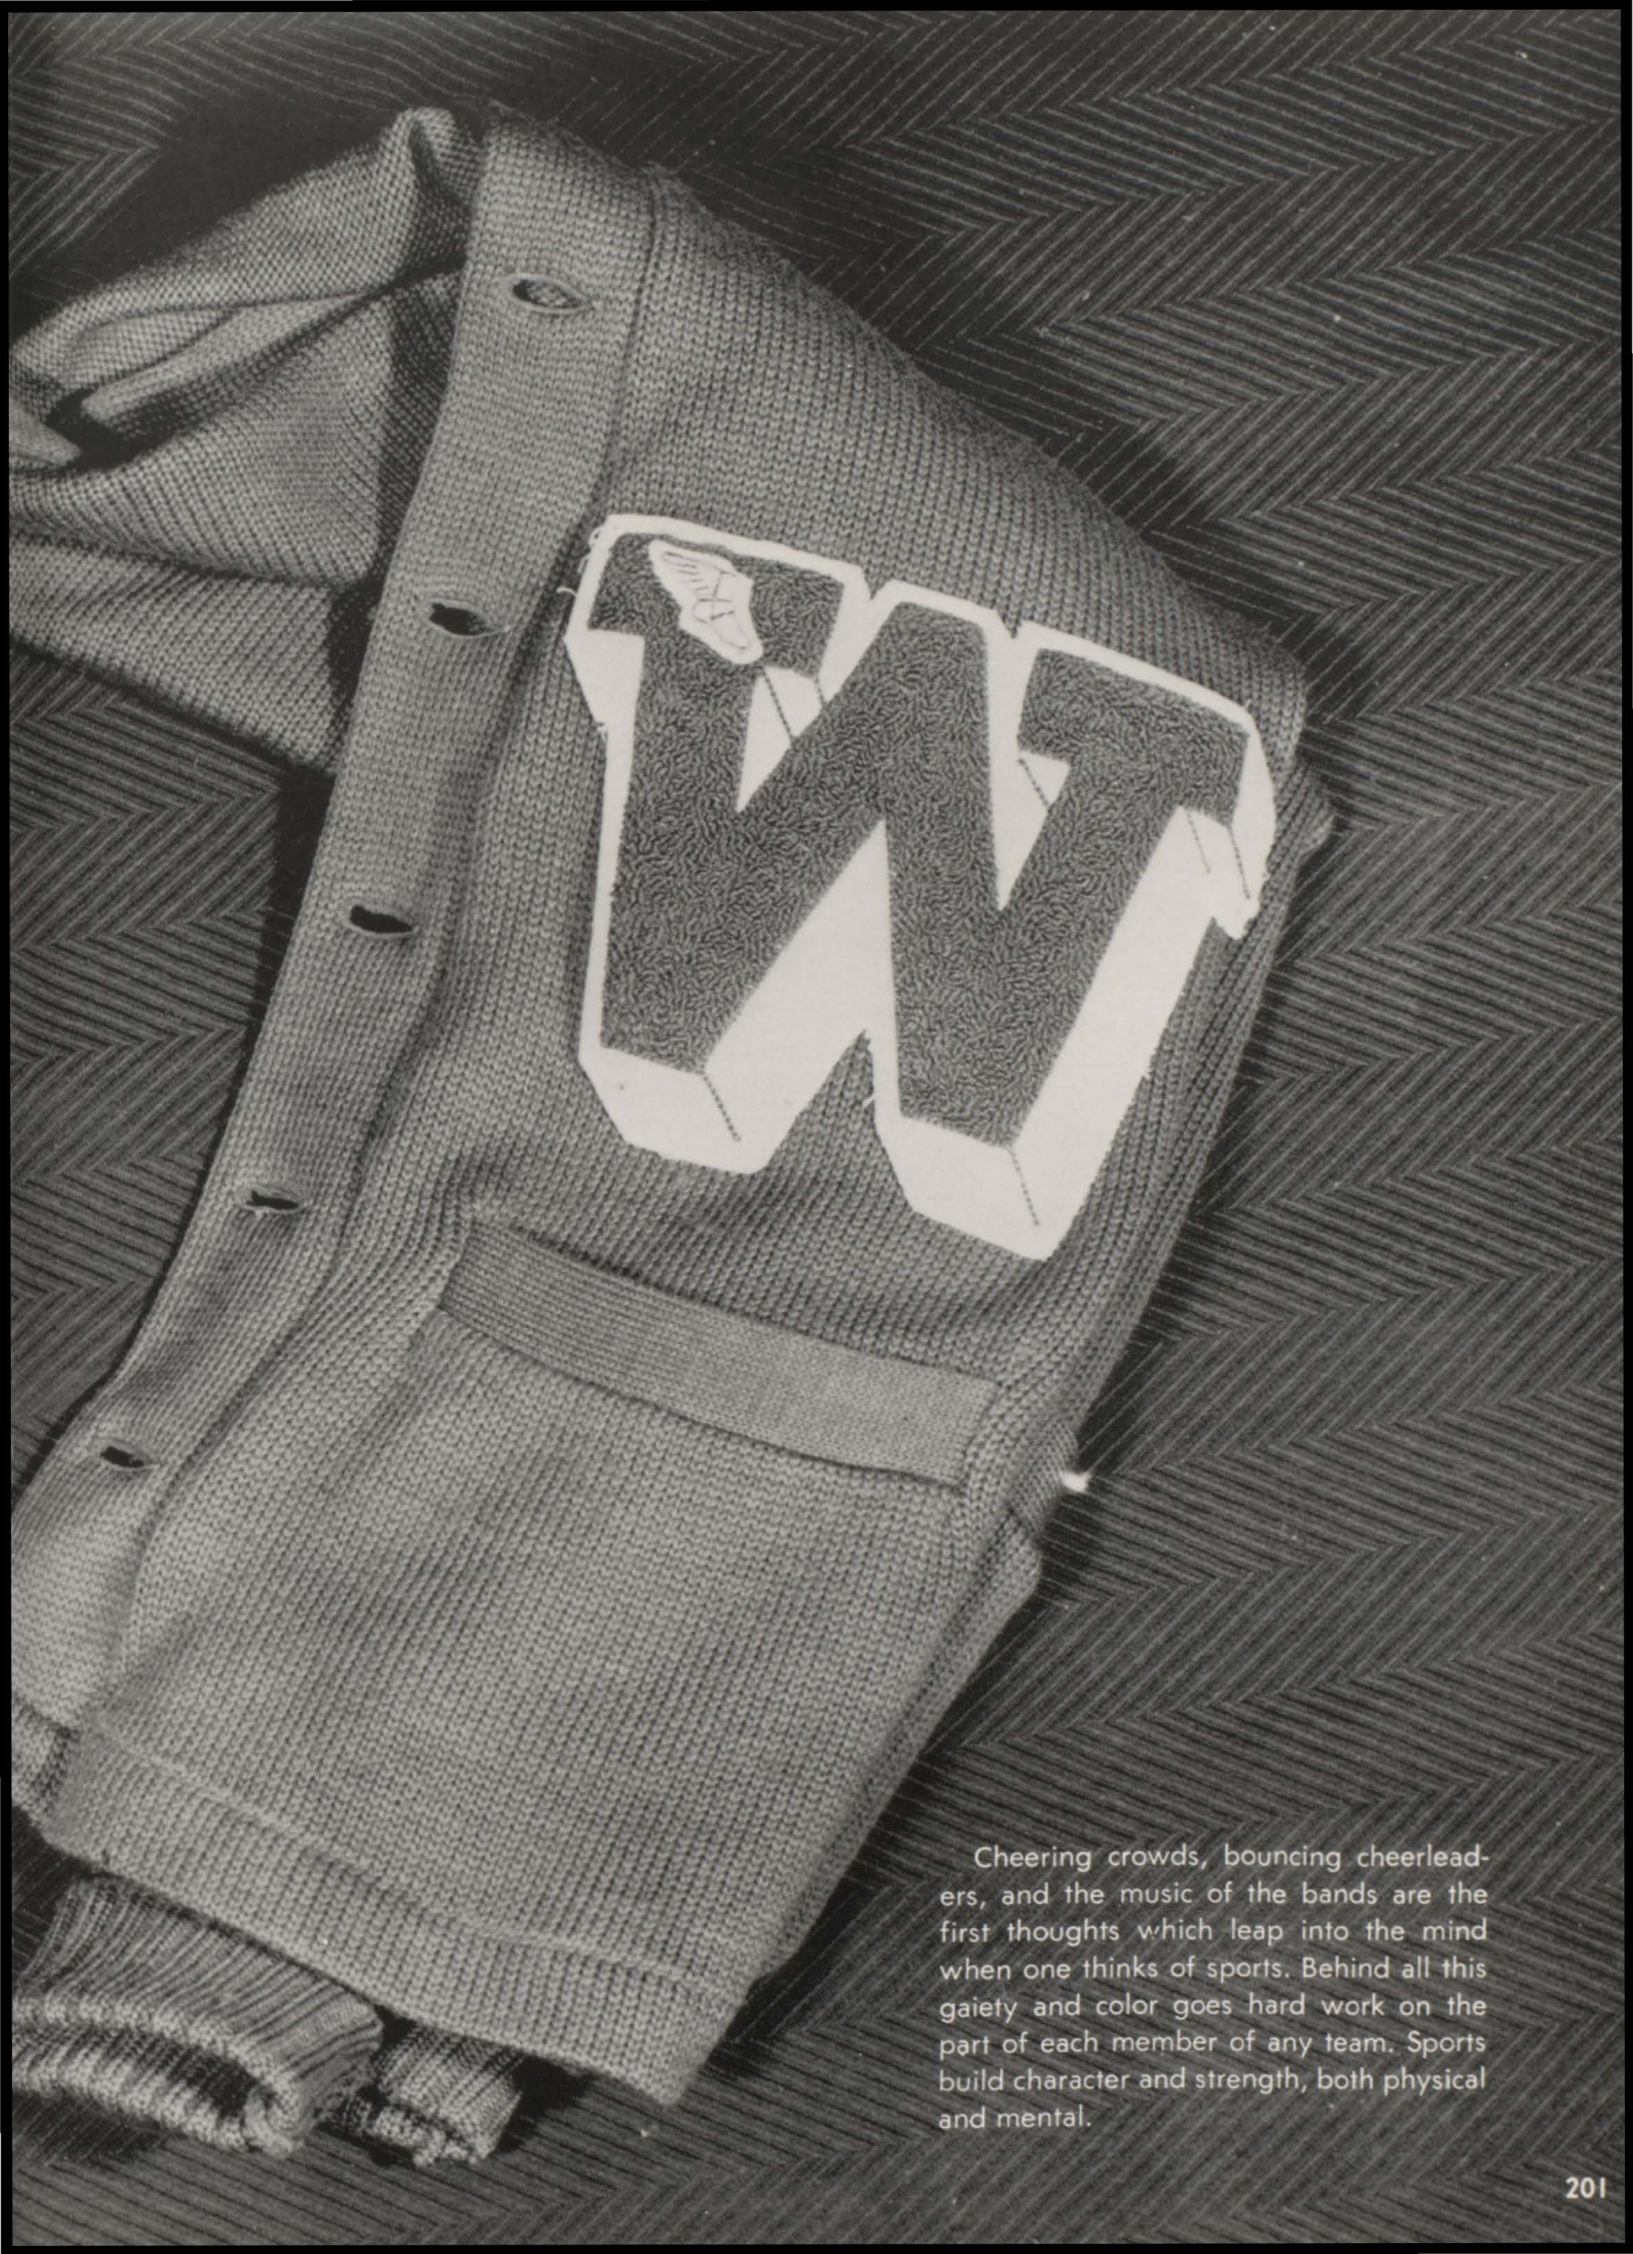
Sports



Cheering crowds, bouncing cheerleaders, and the music of the bands are the first thoughts which leap into the mind when one thinks of sports. Behind all this gaiety and color goes hard work on the part of each member of any team. Sports build character and strength, both physical and mental.

Willingham Football

BILLY HENDERSON
Head Coach

This year's football squad has done a remarkable job of holding its own in the 1962 gridiron season, despite some of the toughest competition Region I-AAA has ever seen.

The Rams posted a fine 7-1-2 record, the best in the school's history. They were runners-up to the I-AAA champs and eventual state champs, and in some quarters named the second best team in the state.

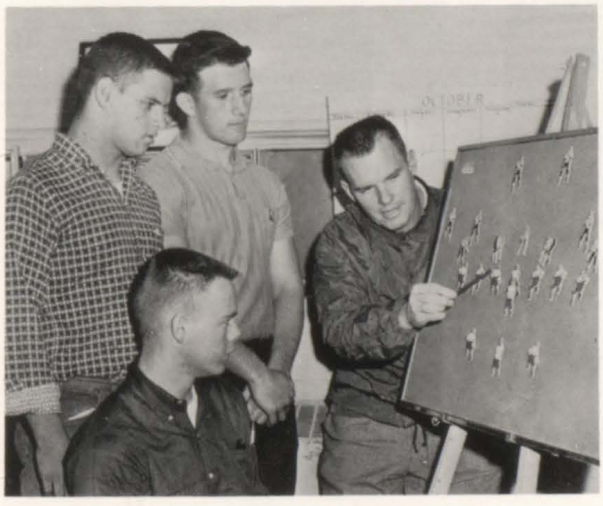
Bob McMahon, President of the Macon Touchdown Club, and guest speaker Dan Hill present the Harry Kendall Trophy to Willingham principal Fred Johnson.

The trophy was presented to Willingham for its third consecutive win over its intra-city rivals, the Lanier Poets. The Rams defeated the Poets three straight times, 13-6, 23-6, and 7-6. Watching are Willingham Athletic Director Billy Henderson and Captain Pete Gaines.



Coach Henderson explains a play to Carl Summers, Randy Mason, and Pete Gaines.

Study pays off . . . Pete Gaines makes good gain behind fine blocking.

Rams Roll Over Demons 26-13

Ricky Payne gets a bump on the rump compliments of a Demon.

Ricky Payne gets into the act again, this time returning the favor, with assistance from Pete Gaines. Mark Bowen watches with interest.

Rams, Devils Fight to 0-0 Tie

Thelston Goss makes a little headway against Columbus club.

Pete Gaines grinds out yardage against Blue Devils.

Rams Ease By Baker, 13-7

Terry Colson, running from the halfback slot, swings around left end for a first down.

Pete Gaines makes ten yard gain after exercising the option play.

Rams Over Grangers, 7-6

Right, Gaines is knocked off balance by onrushing Grangers.

Rams Down Jordan, 32-6

Right, halfback Charlie Fiveash tries to get more yardage out of recovered fumble. End Mark Bowen rushes to lend assistance.

Rams Tied By Non-Region Athens 7-7

Above, Pete Gaines tries to get as much yardage as possible after being shoe-string tackled.

Left, staunch defenders Carlie McNeil and Charlie Fiveash make bruising stop on offensive foe.

Rams Squeeze By Albany, 7-6

Above, everyone concerned seems confused as to just what is happening.

Left, two Indians converge on Ram ballcarrier to make the stop.

'Dosta Hands Rams Only Loss 12-0

Right, referees see who gets possession of early Ram fumble. The Wildcats ended up on top.

Rams Slip by Packers, 7-0

Jimmy Clay halts driving Packer Back for short gain.

Pete Gaines makes diving tackle to keep Moultrie man from getting big yardage.

Rams Take Third Straight Win From Poets in Cliffhanger, 7-6

Henderson and Gaines discuss strategy concerning bleak situation during third quarter.

The Willingham Rams of Coach Billy Henderson made it three in a row over the Lanier Poets Friday night, Nov. 7, as they made a fourth quarter comeback to score the tying touchdown, and won the encounter with 55 seconds left on a fine conversion.

In what was certainly the most thrilling of all Ram-Poet games, the Rams took the ball late in the game to march against a cold driving wind and a touch unrelenting Poet defensive line without making one mistake.

Ram quarterback Pete Gaines scored the life-saving TD, and Carlie McNeil booted the winning PAT.

Jubilant Henderson after game.

Pictures Tell Story

Rams and Poets get nowhere against each other in first half.

At the half, Rams go to locker room to hear grim half-time talk.

Poets come back on field determined, storm down field for third quarter touchdown.

Tension becomes almost unbearable for spectators.

Fired up Rams get hands on ball and begin their faultless drive down field . . . and . . .

BINGO, touchdown, with 55 seconds remaining!

Varsity Roster

Mentor Henderson and Captain Pete Gaines

"The 1962 Willingham football team will forever be in the minds of anyone interested in Willingham and McEvoy. The young men who played on this team had those qualities that go hand in hand with success in any walk of life: sacrifice, hard work, loyalty, dedication, determination, and most important of all, THE ABILITY TO COME THROUGH WHEN THE CHIPS WERE DOWN.

"Willingham may be represented by teams with more talent in the future, but future teams can learn from the 1962 edition as far as the above traits are concerned. As far as our coaching staff is concerned, these young men are true Champions—we shall always be grateful for the contribution they made to our two schools."

WILLINGHAM "B" TEAM COACH LOUIS DOWNER:

"This group of boys were typical of the Willingham Rams—hard workers, dependable. This team was one of the best full court press clubs that I have had the pleasure of working with. These young men should run keen competition for the vacancies on the varsity next year."

WILLINGHAM NINTH GRADE MENTOR BILLY BEALE:

"This season's ninth grade team has been the best ninth grade club that has ever played, as far as size and ability are concerned. If they improve as much in the next two years as they have in the eighth and ninth grade, they will be pretty sound material for the varsity."

WILLINGHAM EIGHTH GRADE COACH MIKE GARVIN:

"This year's eighth grade basketball team was, on the whole, equal to the other teams of the past. Their attitude exemplified the spirit of the Rams. I hope that they continue to grow to be successful Rams of the future."

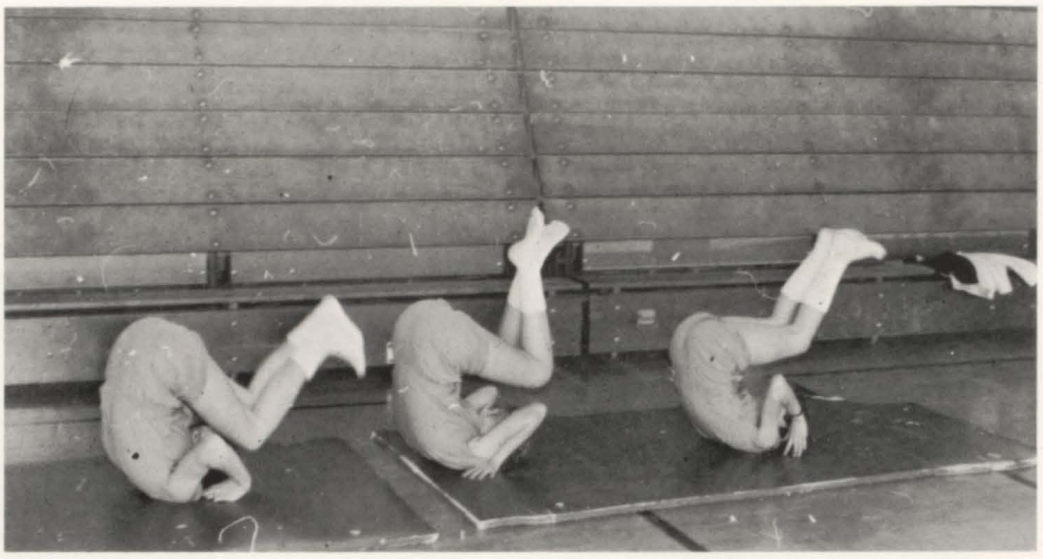
Recollections

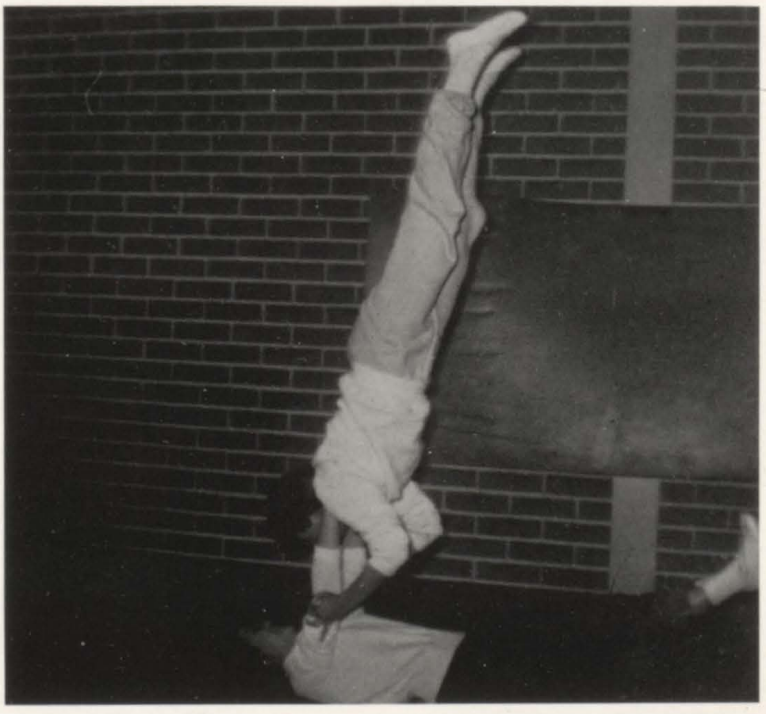
McEvoy

"Here we go, round and round the gym!" On cold days running is a good way to warm up.

Tumbling

Tumbling plays an important part in the athletic program. Here, three of our tumblers demonstrate the backward roll.





Gym teachers Jo Hutto and Billie Anderson give an example of physical strength by executing a difficult handstand.

Sports

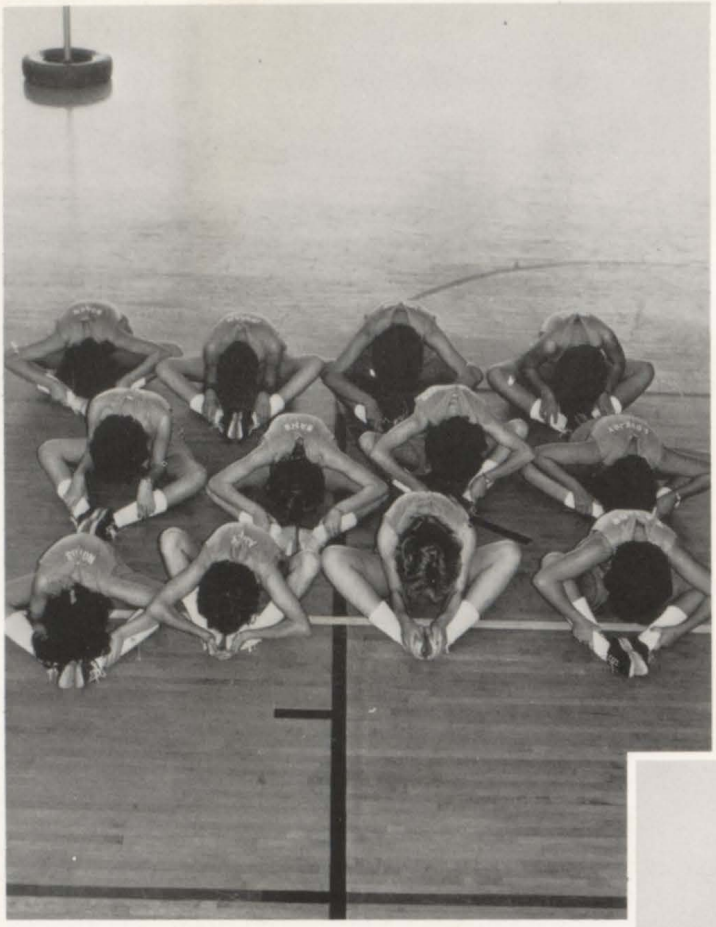
"Oh! my aching back," cries the first row, as these girls illustrate the formation of a pyramid.

Folk Dancing

"Promenade!" How dull—in an all girls' school, anyway!

Well, if you can't keep your figure one way, try another. Donna Evancic does it the hard way.

Exercises



We all dread the time of year when our "cruel" teachers insist we do our exercises. But we know how important it is to keep a healthy body.

"Watch that waist line, girls." Exercising is usually done at the beginning of the year to prepare the girls for more strenuous sports.

Ping Pong

Everyone enjoys ping pong at McEvoy. Each year we have a tournament, and anyone can enter.

Basketball

At McEvoy, basketball is one of our most played, and most enjoyed sports. This sport is played to promote good sportsmanship among our girls and to learn the many skills of the sport.

Jump high, girls! You have to get that ball to one of your teammates.

Guard her well, don't foul her, keep her from shooting. We must remember all the rules that we have been taught, to be good players.

Badminton

"Marsha, where did the birdie go?" asks Pat Cooley.

Archery

Are the McEvoy girls having to resort to weapons? They are developing skills in archery for some reason. For most girls this is a new and enjoyable sport with a great deal of tradition.

Track

Track has become a popular sport at McEvoy recently. Girls take part in relay races, the standing broad jump, the running broad jump, and other types of races. The climax to this time spent in training are the field events in the annual gym day held in the spring.

Soccer

Soccer is a well-liked sport at McEvoy. Lassies know many skills must be developed.

Field Hockey

Running a close race with soccer, is field hockey, another enjoyed sport at McEvoy.

Softball

In the spring, all lassies enjoy playing softball. How do you think we get our good suntans?

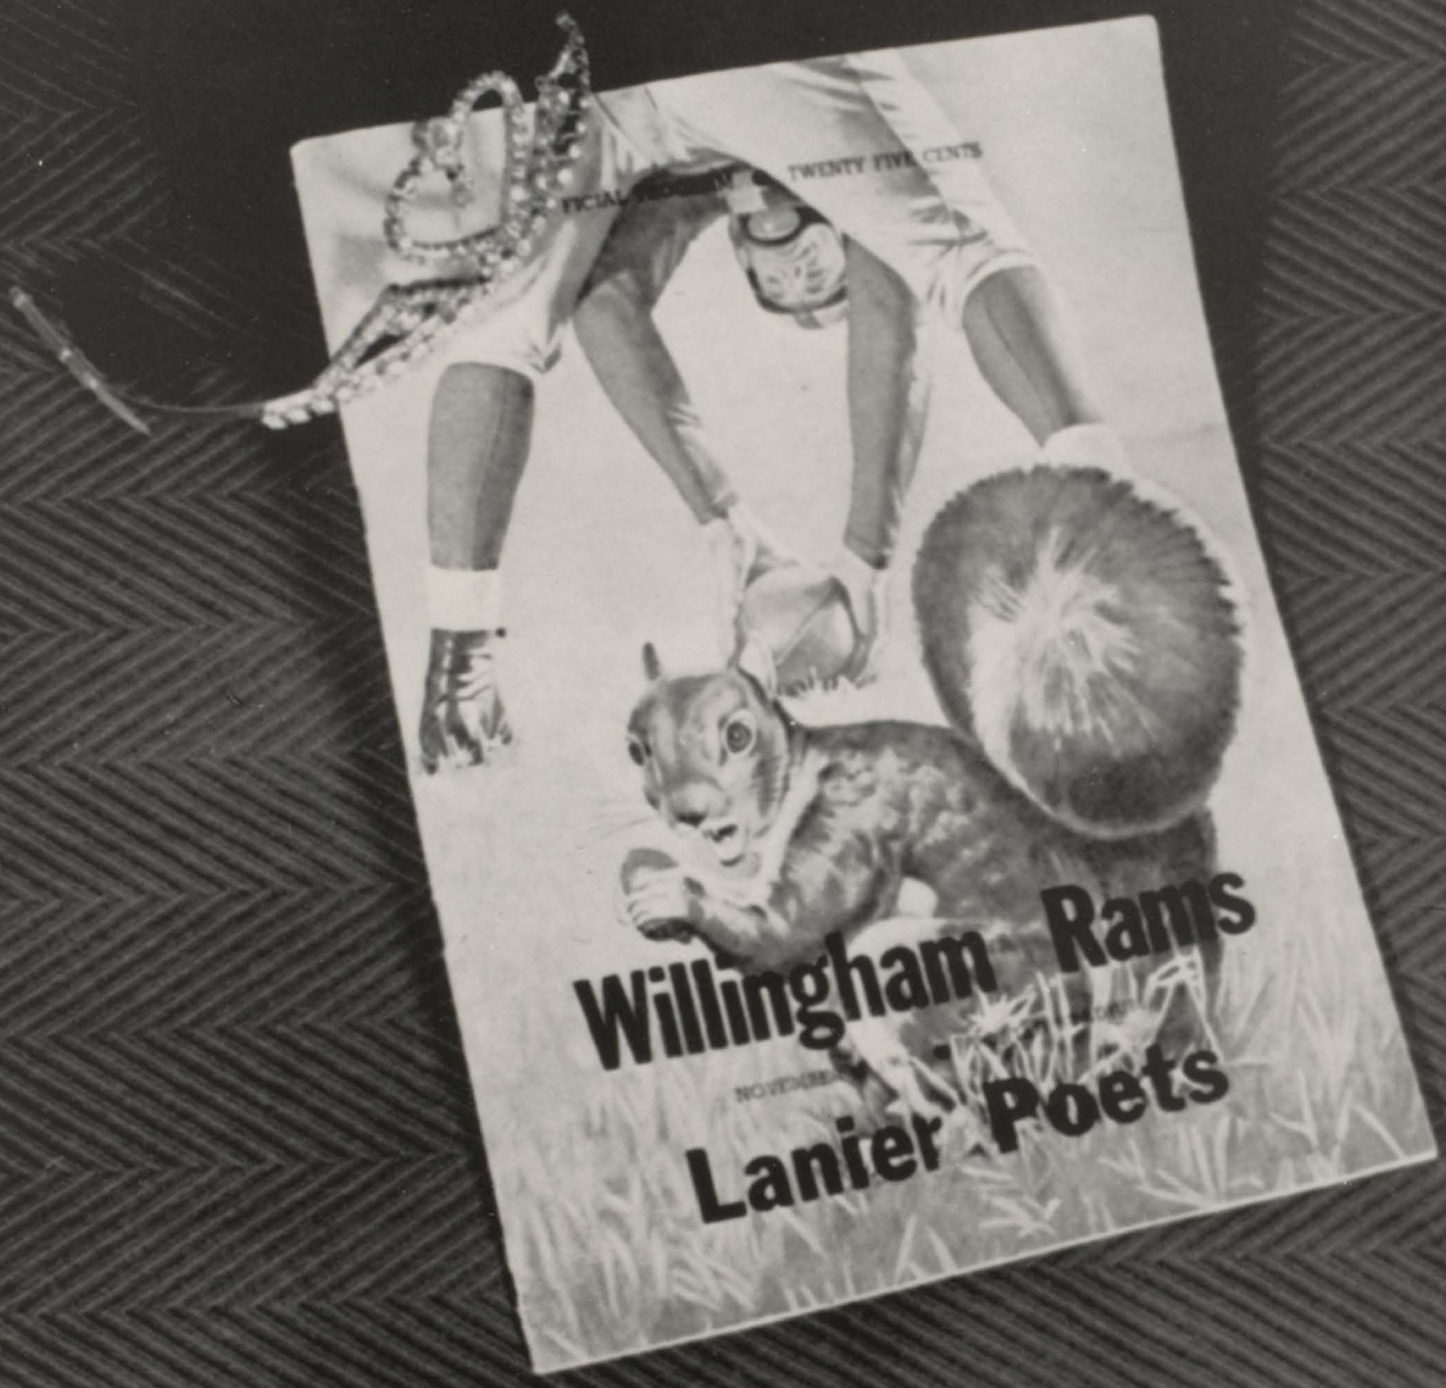
Activities



A good program of activities adds excitement to the usual drudgery of school work. By participating in the activities of the various organizations at McEvoy and Willingham, students develop into well-rounded individuals and contribute to the betterment of their schools . . . and have fun while doing so.

Jan Thompson, Barbara Gardner, Marsha Young, and Jane Brown attend the Beta Club Convention.

Flappers Kay Holt and Jo Murphy entertain in a scene from the winning Beta Club skit.

Spring

Spring of 1962 brought many happy moments with her. As days grew longer, and hotter, we yearned for the end of school. To Seniors, spring meant that their high-school years were almost over; juniors anxiously awaited the time they would be measured for their senior rings. Our teachers and principal found it hard to control the "spring bug" which made most of us allergic to our studies . . . or to any other work.

Of course spring brought excitement, too . . . the all important elections of student council officers, class officers and club officers.

Marsha Young, nominated by McEvoy's Beta Club, was supported by all Macon Beta Clubs in her campaign for Vice-President of the Georgia State Beta Clubs. McEvoy's skit, "The Roaring Twenties," won the first place prize at the Beta Club Convention in Atlanta.

National Library Week, April 8-14, was brought to the attention of all students by the many bulletin boards made by our librarian and library assistants.

Publicizing of National Library Week is done very effectively by Mrs. Reese, Kay Holt, Claudia Pate, and Sharon Quinn.

Becky Davis, speaker at the FHA banquet, added to the enjoyment.

The Stags play entertainingly at the City Talent Show.

Donna Sue Mondy lights up the auditorium when she twirls her baton . . . fire sparkling from the ends.

1962

"Good Ship, FHA" was the theme of this year's annual FHA Mother-Daughter Banquet. This year's achievements and next year's goals were presented to the mothers. Becky Davis, vice-president of First District FHA, was the guest speaker.

In April the Macon high schools displayed their various talent at the City Talent Show. We were proud to be represented by the Stags, a dance band, baton-twirling Donna Sue Mondy, and others.

Phyllis Martin, singing "On the Street Where You Live," captured first place prize in the Willingham-sponsored Southern Accents.

The Senior Class presented a fashion show and tea to raise money for their scholarship fund. The fashions, worn by adults, teens, and children, were from stores in Westgate.

This year, for the first time at McEvoy, a Latin Day was celebrated. There was an assembly in which Latin Club members presented a fashion show and various skits.

Mrs. Cox has certainly kept our bulletin boards, halls, etc., neat and attractive this year with her art students' various products. This year's art exhibit was viewed and praised by all.

Our newly organized Thespians, an honor society for those participating in the Dramatic arts, once again felt growing pains as Babs Green initiated ten new members. Membership is based on honor points achieved by participating in various activities.

The Senior Class members invited their mothers to be their guests at a luncheon prior to graduation. Mr. Brake was "guest" speaker.

Singer Phyllis Martin was the favorite in the Southern Accents.

Shorts were modeled by Beverly McBride for the Senior Fashion Show.

The fashion show was a success, as these models show.

Linda Sue Harris and Ray Ann Johnson participate in a skit on Latin Day.

Janice Champagne is in a Latin Day scene.

Barbara Bates and Linda Vaughn are also celebrating Latin Day.

Patsy Gegogeine and Rebecca Causey stop in the hall to admire the art exhibit.

Babs Green . . . honor Thespian . . . inducted new Thespians in a ceremony on May 31, 1962.

Mr. Brake, our principal, speaks at the Senior Mother-Daughter Banquet . . . one of the last occasions they will be together as a class.

Sponsors for the Blue Team were Sandra Windham, Kathy Danahy . . . crowned queen later . . . and Judye Wilder.

Jean Moore, Gail McKinley and Anne Brewer were sponsors for the White Team.

During the spring, football players from the 1961-1962 team were chosen to play on the Blue or White team for the annual Spring Football Game. The members of each team selected three girls to be their sponsors . . . for the Blue Team, they were Sandra Windham, Kathy Danahy, and Judye Wilder, and for the White Team, Jean Moore, Gail McKinley, and Anne Brewer. Crowned at a dance following the game was Kathy Danahy.

Senior-Dress-Up-Week found many dignified members of the Class of '62 less dignified as they donned various queer costumes. The days included Roaring Twenties, Career, Country Hick, and Kiddy. Miriam McGee, Jean Higgens, and Jane Herin appear as the Kids.

The last hot three days of school were spent watching softball games, relays, and other gym contests. Jane Brown tried to run with a basketball between her legs.

The chorus, led by their director Mrs. Lewis, presented a night of music for parents and students on May 31. Linda Jennings sang one of the three solos.

Dignified Seniors Miriam McGee, Jean Higgens, and Jane Herin shed their dignity and become kids for Kiddy Day.

It's a little difficult to run with a basketball between the legs . . . as Jane Brown demonstrates.

One of the soloists for the chorus program was Linda Jennings.

Mr. Brake presented the Senior Class officers their new rings in a special assembly.

Seniors Louise Bennett and Peggy Barry compare their rings.

Fall

Margaret McEvoy High School began her sixth year of operation with an enrollment of 1227. Many changes have been made to accommodate these students. Four new class rooms have been added . . . two adjacent to the lunchroom, two in previous locker areas in first and second halls. There are 49 teachers on the McEvoy faculty, of whom 17 are new. We are especially proud of our new language laboratories for use by German, Spanish, and French students.

For a few weeks at the beginning of school, the new Seniors were the old hands . . . you see, they had just received their long awaited Senior rings. Senior Ring Day was proclaimed . . . and Mr. Brake gave the seniors their rings in a senior-high assembly. Peggy Barry, president of the Senior Class, and Louise Bennett compare the beauty of their new class rings.

Sandra Windham, circulation manager of the Bonnie Blue Print, presented a prize to Sue Baxter, winner of the subscription contest for the paper.

The McEvoy Student Council held an orientation program for the new eighth graders this year. Eighth grader, Jeannie Tharpe, received an explanation of the guide book from Sherry Lindsey, chairman of the orientation program. One of the "big sisters," Ann Mikus watched.

Success of the subscription drive of the school paper is evident as Sandra Windham presents Sue Baxter with a prize.

"Big Sister" Ann Mikus looks on as Sherry Lindsey, chairman of the Student Council's orientation program, explains the guidebook to eighth grader Jeannie Tharpe.

McEvoy student Linda Baker is helped by instructors Billie Anderson and Jolene Turner in an exercise for the physical fitness program.

Speaker for the Y-Teen induction of new members was Bob Porter.

Y-Teen president Jane Windham recognizes new members.

1962

Physical fitness tests have been given to all McEvoy students who take physical education. These tests will be given twice each year to show the progress of each individual student. This test was set up by the President's Council on Youth Fitness and is required in most physical education courses. New gym instructors, Billie Anderson and Jolene Turner, assist Linda Baker with one of the exercises for the physical fitness program.

Bob Porter was guest speaker at Y-Teens' induction of new members. Jane Windham, president of McEvoy's Y-Teens, recognizes new members.

Tri-Hi-Y also had their induction of new members at this time. New member Janice Bowen, president Ellen Russell, and advisors Mr. McArthur and Miss Colquitt stand beside the Tri-Hi-Y emblem.

Something new was added to our school pictures this year . . . they were in color. Some of our freshmen are shown getting "their beauty struck."

The usual main attraction at the Spanish Club is the advisor's son, Billy. At this meeting, he is shown helping members and Mrs. Hinesley nominate the new officers.

Standing by the Tri-Hi-Y emblem are new member Janice Bowen, president Ellen Russell, and advisors Mr. McArthur and Miss Colquitt.

Pictures for the yearbook were made in the library at McEvoy. Assembly-line precision was necessary to complete them in two days.

Spanish Club advisor Mrs. Hinesley holds her son Billy as members nominate and elect new officers.

Junior Charlotte Moore Chosen 1962 Homecoming Queen

Willingham's Homecoming game was again played with the Moultrie Packers. Probably the most exciting part of homecoming besides the game, of course, is the selection of a queen and court. This year McEvoy's Student Council nominated five girls to run and five Willingham clubs also sponsored a girl each. Elaborate campaigns featured bubble gum, candy . . . and plenty of hard work.

Charlotte Moore, a junior, walked off with the title of Homecoming Queen of 1962. Her court consisted of Seniors Marsha Young, Johnnie Howell, Gail McKinley, and Kay Holt.

Homecoming 1962

Preparation for Homecoming includes many hours of decorating for the dance. Willingham's Senior Class, in charge of the dance, received help from many people in completing this job.

The day of the game is a busy one for everyone, especially the cheerleaders as they decorate the goal posts . . . helped by other girls, especially members of the Pep Club.

To make Homecoming '62 extra-special, the AMCC sold white mums with blue ribbons to the girls at McEvoy and the boys at Willingham.

The night of the dance . . . at last! We've won the game and everyone feels great, ready for hours of twisting to the music of the Stags.

Senior Class members from both schools work frantically to finish decorations for the dance.

Willingham Senior Class President Tommy Shaw, helped by cheerleaders Camille Garrard and Jerri Alfirov, decorates.

After spending so much time decorating the goal post, Jerri Alfirov and Pam Blair hope their work will last.

AMCC member Martha Webb distributes mums to eager McEvoy lassies who had ordered them.

The twist was enjoyed not only by those participating . . . here Jennifer Durden and Raymond Baggarly . . . but also by the spectators.

Cheerleaders worked hard during the game, although school spirit was already high.

Willingham Student Council President Pete Gaines crowns Queen Charlotte Moore as her escort Jeff Wagner, member of the court Johnnie Howell and her date Dwight Payne, as well as interested spectators, observe.

Mayor Ed Wilson spoke at Key Club-sponsored assembly at Willingham. The Key Club aided in the oganization of "Safe-Teens," a group which promotes driving safety and courtesy.

At out-of-town as well as home football games, the team was faithfully supported by our bands from Willingham and McEvoy.

Linda Willron and Kristine Skogland, both from Wesleyan, entertained the Dramatics Club. By taking a simple skit and presenting it various ways they demonstrated how a good actress could successfully portray many parts.

November 12-16 was proclaimed by Student Council as Honor Week. Bulletin boards, posters, book marks, and discussion groups advertised the theme of honor throughout the week. Rosemary Wheeler, president of Student Council, and Gail McKinley, chairman of honor committee, made plans with Judge W. A. Bootle, who was guest speaker for Honor Week.

Rivalry between Willingham and Lanier reaches its peak for the annual Willingham-Lanier game.

This year before the big game, a code of conduct, written by Inter-School Student Council, was presented by Rosemary Wheeler to the student body at a joint pep rally.

Sam the Ram, mascot for the Willingham Rams, gave Willingham cheerleader Donna Evancic a ride.

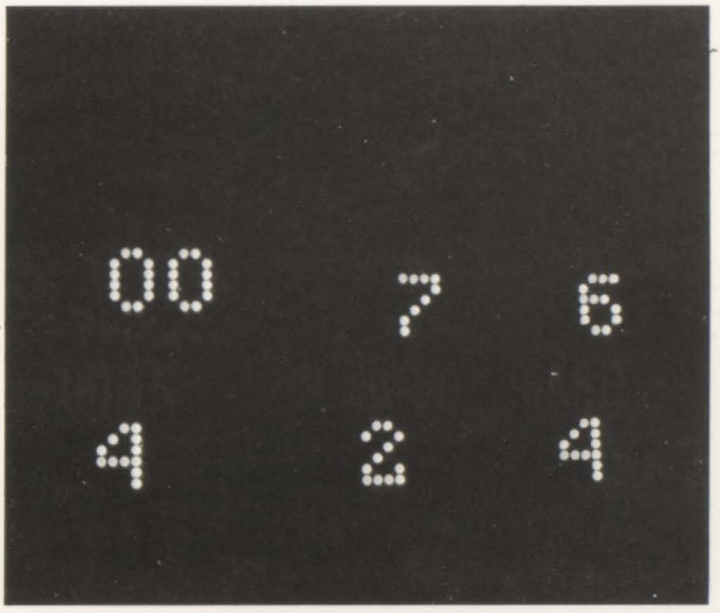
The marching band presented one of its best half-time shows for this important game.

Each year at the Willingham-Lanier game there is rivalry not only between the two teams, but also between our fine bands. Directors as well as band members work hard to present their most impressive half-time show. The highlight of this year's show was the "Barber Shop" group.

Sam the Ram was really dressed up this year in custom made frocks. Cheerleader Donna Evancic really proved her devotion by going for a free ride.

This year was the third time we subjugated the Lanier Poets to win the city title for football. When the crowd from Willingham and McEvoy wildly counted the last seconds of the game, the score board read 7-6 . . . we had won the most-desired victory again.

Students from Willingham, Lanier, and McEvoy listened as McEvoy Student Council President Rosie Wheeler read a jointly-written Code of Conduct.



That scoreboard looked mighty good to the Ram supporters from McEvoy and Willingham.

As Mr. Littlefield directed, those at the game heard some good barbershop harmony.

American Education Week was remembered by our Future Teachers, who presented shiny red apples to all teachers. Mrs. Hall is given her apple by Linda Jennings and Elaine Denard.

Flu, headaches . . . and "test aches" . . . kept our clinic full. Rebecca Watkins wished she had been only playing sick as she is given medicine by "Doctor" Donna Thames.

Dr. Pierce Harris (above), an Atlanta pastor and well-known speaker, was guest speaker at Willingham and McEvoy Thanksgiving assemblies. Pete Gaines, president of Willingham Student Council, is pictured with him.

General Motors' Parade of Progress fascinated McEvoy girls: even Mr. Brake (below) went back for explanations.

Powder Puff Football

Mr. Ben Jones and Mrs. Susan Chanin narrated the FBLA "dress right" show.

Phillip Odum and Dianne Childs model here.

The FBLA chapters of McEvoy and Willingham presented a "dress right" program at both schools. These programs, presented with the hope that they would promote good dress habits among the students, showed the "do's and don'ts" for various occasions. The models from McEvoy were outfitted by Stephens in Westgate; Ben Jones Men's Shop attired our Willingham "models." The narrators, Mr. Ben Jones and Mrs. Susan Chanin, gave brief talks on proper or improper wear on certain occasions.

Donna Evancic, one of the cheerleaders, probably hasn't been home.

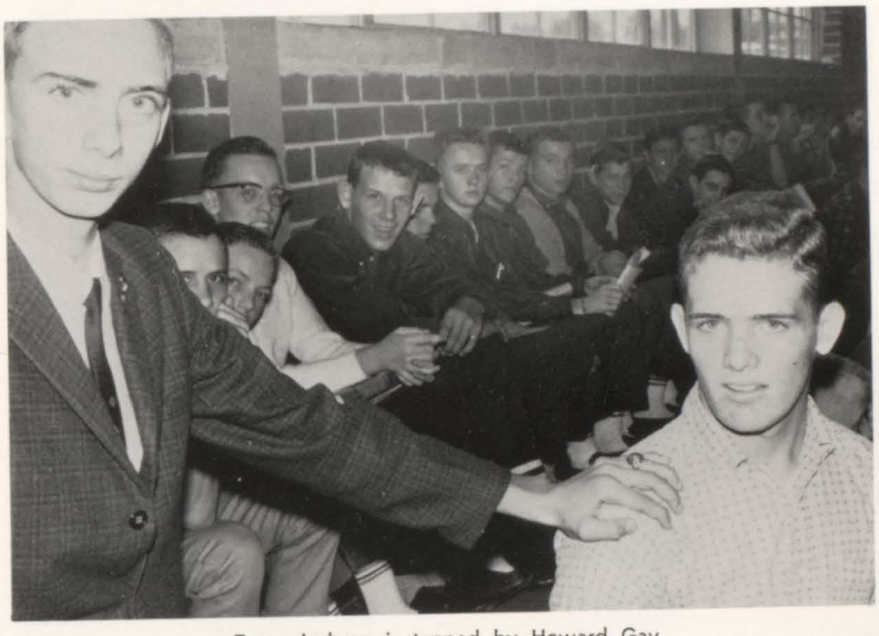
One way to encourage school spirit is to have pep rallies . . . especially when they're co-ed.

Have you ever wondered why the cheerleaders are always early for our football games? It could be that they just got through decorating the goal posts . . . and haven't even been home. Have you ever wondered why cheerleaders are always at the dances after the games? Well, they were there first . . . decorating for the dance. I'm sure we would all like to thank our enthusiastic cheerleader squad for all their secretly performed, but necessary, tasks.

Elaine Carr, Jane Windham, Gail McKinley, and Phydan Johnston, new Beta members, kneel in front of the Beta Club bulletin board.

Sandra Windham . . . excited and happy . . . has her flower pinned on. Now she's a Beta member.



Terry Jackson is tapped by Howard Gay.

Everyone looks forward each year to Beta tapping. At McEvoy excitement fills the gym as each Beta member takes her gold flower, goes up into the crowd, and pins it on the shoulder of a new member of this honorary society based on scholarship, leadership, and character. The boys at Willingham have the same feeling . . . but without the squeals . . . as they watch new members being sought out and tapped.

The Quill and Scroll, an international literary society organized during 1961-62 at McEvoy, inducted its members in an assembly. Later this year it will tap its new members.

Phydan Johnston and Sharon Quinn participate in Quill and Scroll induction and advisor Mrs. Julia Lanier watches.

New Quill and Scroll members take pledge of membership in induction ceremony.

Christmas 1962

Christmas celebrations began early this year at McEvoy. The Senior Class held their Christmas banquet at Hadden's Restaurant. Elick Bullington, pastor of Liberty Methodist Church, was guest speaker. Below: Gail McKinley, secretary of the Senior Class, kept him busy talking before dinner.

The McEvoy-Willingham Dramatics Club presented the play, "The Littlest Angel," to both schools. Below: The "littlest angel," Jimmy Scroggins, talks over his problems with head angel, Gail Fields.

The Spanish, French, German, and Latin students were not forgotten either. In an assembly they were given a chance to display their singing talents by the singing of carols in their newly acquired tongue.

Opposite page:

The last day of school before the holidays was a whirl of activities. For some, like Sharon Jones, the fascinating Limbo helped the time go by.

Student Council's canned goods drive more than reached its goal; not only maids and janitors, but lunchroom maids as well received boxes of canned goods as a token of appreciation for their services.

Of course we think of exchanging gifts at Christmas, so Coach Garvin proudly displayed one of his favorite "gifts."

The Red Cross sponsored door decoration contest in Junior High was won by Room 140, Mrs. LaMount's class. Mr. Greenshaw presented the five dollar prize which was later given to the Goodfellows.

Rosie Wheeler, president of Student Council, proudly gave Mr. Brake a check to be used at the end of the year to help the girl of his choice further her education. The money was contributed by the student body.

Mr. Bullington speaks at the Senior Class Christmas Banquet.

Accompanied by Mr. Harvey, the German class sings German Christmas carols.

Willingham's "Pride of Dixie" Band was among the few high school bands which participated in Governor Carl Sanders' Inaugural Parade in Atlanta in January.

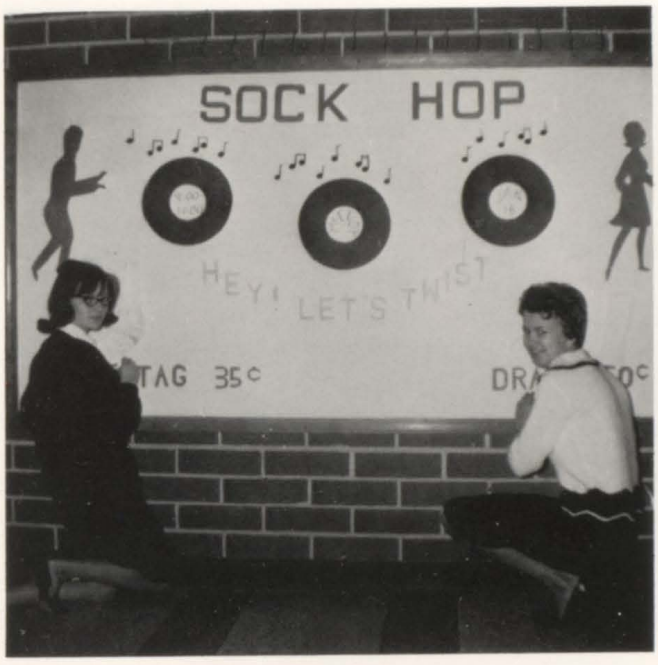
Dr. Eugene Nichols, of F.S.U., spoke on "The New Approach to Modern Math" at a dinner held here at McEvoy. Our Math department was host to math teachers from other Bibb County high schools as well as Mercer and Wesleyan. Above: Miss Simmons, Mr. Golson, Miss Edinfield, Mrs. Gray, Mr. Brake. Math club members Diane Driggers, Brenda Horne, Linda Foster, Judy Strickland, Beth Godbee Sandra Martin, Peggy Tidwell, Patsy Ennis, Elaine Ward, Candy Brewer, Pat Pape, Elaine Carr served.

Senior Toni Foster gets help on her working bibliography from Kay Jordan and Anne Marie Fiveash. All seniors will forever remember the long hours spent on their English term paper.

Paul Merritt takes his turn directing traffic; this is one of the seniors' "privileges."

Miss Stalnaker, a Board of Health nurse, gives senior home economics students some inside tricks to baby care.

Evelyn Strickland enjoys the convenience of the lunchroom's new milk machines, which are mainly for those who bring their lunches.



Sandra Tillman and Jean Shouse, sophomores, put finishing touches on a bulletin board advertising a dance to raise money for class projects.

Gail McKinley, managing editor, helps Bonnie Blue Print staff members Anne Mikus and Diane Childs put finishing touches on the paper before it goes to press.

In the second annual Walk-a-thon, a polio fund-raising drive, the Ramscotts, a group from Willingham, McEvoy, and Mt. de Sales, competed against the Polio-ettes, from Lanier, Miller, and Stratford.

Sherry Lindsey, chairman of the Ramscotts, turns over the loot to Sheriff Bloodworth in turn for Jeff Wagner, Pete Gaines, and Mark Bowen's freedom from jail. Their over night stay was only an overnight publicity stunt.

Peggy Miller, Jackie Williams, Pam Etheredge, and Jan Walker present "Athropods to Athropods" in hopes of introducing "Mr. Grasshopper" to the Biology class.

Many of our mothers came and stayed in the clinic during year. Mrs. Bounds helps Barbara Young along the road to recovery.

Rosie Wheeler, president of Student Council, discusses McEvoy Student Council running for the office of Vice-President of Georgia Association of Student Council. Right, Jane Windham gives her opinion on the motion. It was later decided that McEvoy would run.

Tri-Hi-Y's panel discussion was on "Courtesy." The members of panel were Pete Gaines, Jim Wooten, Marsha Young, Ronnie Digby, Wallace Bates, Peggy Barry, and Rosemary Wheeler.

Not only was the Senior Rich's Trip an important occasion for the girls from McEvoy, but it marked the last trip for Mr. Lockhart, head of Rich's day tours on the Nancy Hanks. Mrs. Lanier, one of the Senior advisors, enjoyed the day, too.

Prizes were given to the lucky girls whose names were drawn from a box on the way to Atlanta.

Merri Meriweather is delighted to hear her name called as the winner of one of the prizes given at the Fashion Show and Tea.

Cherie and B. J., eagerly awaiting the Nancy, pick up their box lunches.

After spending all day at Rich's, Bobbie and Helen relax on the way home. That lollipop looks good!

Seniors, Johnnie, Gail and Peggy begin to prepare for graduation by selecting their invitations.

Schedules have to be made out for next year. Mr. Brake helps Sue Boyles, a junior, decide on a course of study.

The Beta Club held its annual Career Day. Much work goes into its preparation to make it a success.

Janice and Peggy finish some of the decorations.

Susan Bell, one of the guests, was from Wesleyan.

"The shipment goes off next week. We have to have everything ready!" These words are heard frequently by members of the Ramscott staff. Much time and hard work goes into the publication of an annual. The bookstore, our guidance offices, and bank are school services always ready to be used by the girls.

We are appreciative also to the six girls who spend their study-hall time helping Mrs. Castlen in the lunchroom each day.

Angela Bartlett, Peggy Miller, Emily Carr, Kay Holt, Margaret Hall, Susan McCranie, Chris Davis.

The office monitors have proved to be a great help in the work of our school's office. Taking care of many of the odd jobs, they found their work interesting and enjoyable.

The library would be a very disorganized place if it were not for our library assistants. Their job includes checking out books, locating magazines, replacing books on the proper shelves, helping in the audio-visual department, and giving information to girls about the functions of the library.

Monitors Nancy Lewis, Harolynn Purvis, Bonnie Thigpin, Joanne Leslie, Marsha Young, Gail McKinley, Melinda Herndon, and Barbara Smalling seem to be "taking over" the office.

Pennie Bishop, Elaine Denard, Pat Sams, Rosie Wheeler, Phydan Johnston, Ellen Russell, and Brenda Kania (seated) gather 'round the desk in Mr. Brake's office.

Standing in front of the reference section of the library are Helen Hayes, Beverly Eleam, Jean Johnson, and Nancy Smith.

Sue Byars, Barbara Jones, Joy Kitchens, and Shirley O'Brien put books away.

Standing behind the desk in the library are assistants Barbara Smalling, Adecia Pierce, Nancy Hicks, Ann Marie Fiveash, Harriet Arrowood, Dean Carroll, and Mickey Loper.

Assistants Yvonne Sanderlin, Barbara Gorman, Brenda Hardy, and Linda Hurley listen as Ann Hightower explains the use of one of our projectors.

Nancy Riezenger, Dorothy Keels, Patsy Mason, Brenda Epps, and Mary Edwards are shown in the magazine room.

Recognition is given to the achievements of outstanding students throughout the school year. Our schools are honored by the accomplishments of their students.

In the picture in the upper left of the page are McEvoy and Willingham's representatives to the Inter-City Student Council. Standing are Pete Gaines and Rosemary Wheeler. Those seated serve as officers on this council. Joe McDaniel is Treasurer, Gail McKinley is Vice-President, and Brenda Stokes is Parliamentarian.

The College Board Examination is taken by the Seniors in December. When the scores return the student with the highest score on the test and highest academic standard is designated as Star Student and participates in the District Star Student Contest. This year Janice Norris was McEvoy's Star Student and Willingham was represented by Ronnie Digby.

The title Best Citizen suggests a person well liked by everyone because of his friendly attitude and outstanding service to the school. The Seniors at Willingham gave this title to Bobby Bryant while the McEvoy Seniors chose Bonnie Thigpin as their Best Citizen.

Below, Sandra Spann was winner of the Betty Crocker award.

McEvoy was represented by beauty, talent, poise, and personality in the persons of Sandra Windham and Sandra Stubbs, who were among the ten semi-finalists in the Miss Macon Pageant.

Some of McEvoy's students held office in organizations outside of the school.

Guynelle Pitts, in the center picture, was elected and did a fine job as President of the District I Library Assistants.

The title of outstanding Distributive Education student was given to Herman Waters, whom you see in the picture in the center. Seated beside Herman is Kay Holt who held the office of Secretary of the Georgia Association of Library Assistants.

The Y-Teens Inter-City Council functioned under the leadership of Sherry Lindsey, president, Anne Mikus, vice-president, and Rosylyn Hall, parliamentarian, in the lower picture.

McEvoy and Willingham students patronize many of the business firms of Macon. These firms in turn use our Ramscott section for their advertisements. We appreciate their moral backing as well as their financial assistance.

GEORGIA
1776
MERCER UNIVERSITY
unded in Penfield, Georgia, January 14, 1833, Mercer University, the Mercer Institute, "eldest child" of the Georgia Baptist Convention, s been the chief source of Baptist minis-rial and lay leaders through the years. Among many notable Baptists who established this titution, three stand out: Josiah Penfield, ose legacy launched the movement; Jesse rcer, who nurtured and supported the project;
ington M. Sanders, who, with Cynthia Holliday aders (Old Miss), fostered it through the t seven years. Mercer was one of the few eges in the South that remained open during War Between the States and the only one for in Georgia. It was moved to Macon in 1871.

MERCER UNIVERSITY welcomes graduates of McEVOY and WILLINGHAM High Schools. The curriculum is especially designed for those who would be ministers, teachers, lawyers, business executives, doctors, or pharmacists. For information, contact the DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS.

COOPERATION . . . the most necessary factor in the publication of an annual. From where does this cooperation come? It comes from all of you who have gone a little out of your way to assist us, the RAMSCOTT staff, in our work. It has been an unforgettable experience to each of us . . . but truly a rewarding one. We only hope that this annual will become as much a part of you as it has of us.

Our special appreciation goes to these people: Mr. and Mrs. Julian Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bryant for allowing us to use their homes for pictures; Mrs. Dorothy Cox, McEvoy art teacher, for her suggestions; The Macon Telegraph and News for sending their used pictures; Mr. Charles Deaton for giving us his time and help in picture-taking; Drinnon's . . . and especially Mr. Ralph Jones . . . for their time and interest; Coke's for developing pictures so quickly; out patient parents for not mentioning too often our lower grades and absence at home; our principals and long-suffering faculty members for being so understanding about all the class interruptions; Mrs. Elizabeth Hinesley, and Mrs. Betty Lou O'Keefe, our editorial advisors, for their advice and help.

We on the staff hope you like the 1963 RAMSCOTT.
